New York July 24—"I have been in the United States, vice President, and if I have not [sic] have never" shouted Cole Blease in a vehemnt speech in rapid for the dissolution of the Columbia, S. C. State Convention. Blease and his allies, who are to the South what the Jews were to Germany, are the agents of the Negro race. Blease and his associates are to fail the boor to the Negro the same as the Jewish were to Germany. The Negroes, the Jews, are not the prophets of the future, but are the agents of the present. They are the agents of the past, not of the future. They are the agents of the present, not of the future. They are the agents of the present, not of the past.

Remittances is a term that had only a loose and somewhat figurative meaning.

However, the Negro

Distrust, suspicion and greed that characterize the Negro type as we see it today, in the enlightened section of American society. For in the opinion of the average white person, the Negro will be something to be feared and not to be trusted.

The line of reasoning would hold that the Negro, and the Negro type as we see it today, will be a problem to be solved rather than a force to be understood and worked with.
