PORTLAND STATE UNIVERSITY

Portland State University serves as a center of opportunity for more than 26,000 students and a cornerstone for more than 180,000 alumni worldwide. The strength of the University is its world-class faculty, who serve the University and the community through teaching, research, and public service.

Research at Portland State has more than doubled in the past decade, achieving new degrees of excellence through investments such as the $24 million National Institutes of Health (NIH) research and training grant that will fund the Enhancing Crossdisciplinary Infrastructure Training at Oregon (EXITO) program. Portland State contributes an annual economic impact of $1.44 billion to the regional economy.

Located in Portland, the top college city in the United States, the University's innovative approach to education combines academic rigor in the classroom with field-based experiences through internships and classroom projects with community partners.

The University's 50-acre downtown campus exhibits a commitment to sustainability with many Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) certified buildings, while many of the more than 200 bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degrees incorporate sustainability into the curriculum. PSU's motto, "Let Knowledge Serve the City," inspires the teaching and research of an accomplished faculty whose work and students span the globe.

HISTORY

Portland State University opened in 1946 as the Vanport Extension Center to meet the educational needs of veterans home from World War II. The first campus was a portion of Vanport, a wartime housing project that was destroyed in 1948 when a dike broke along the Columbia River.

The campus was moved to north Portland in fall 1948, and in 1949 the Oregon Legislature made "Vanport College" permanent. Three years later the campus moved to its present location along downtown Portland's South Park Blocks, occupying the former Lincoln High School building. It was then known as the Day Division of the Portland State Extension Center.

The Legislature created Portland State College as a four-year, degree-granting institution in 1955. Graduate work was added in 1961, doctoral programs began in 1968, and the institution became Portland State University in 1969.

The University has grown from an initial enrollment of 1,410 students in 1946 to become Oregon's largest urban research university.

ACADEMIC COSTUME

One of the most colorful features of the academic procession is the appearance of graduates, faculty, and guests of the University in full academic costume.

The design of the gown, the color of the tassel on the cap, and the pattern, length, and colors of the hood all have long histories and special significance.

American universities, unlike those of England and Europe, have adopted a standard code of academic costume. According to the code, the bachelor's gown worn by Portland State University graduating seniors has straight sleeves and is worn closed. Gold, silver, and green cords are worn by honors graduates. The master's gown has long, pointed sleeves with the forearm being seen through a slit at the elbow of the sleeves. The doctor's gown is faced with velvet and has bell-shaped sleeves. Each sleeve carries three bars of velvet. The tassel on the cap indicates by color the college or school conferring the degree.

In addition to the cap and gown, candidates for advanced degrees wear the academic hood, the traditional garment signifying high scholarly attainment. The doctoral hood carries the colors of the college or school conferring the degree on the outside and PSU's colors of green and white on the inside.

One legend, which deals with the origin of the cap and gown, reveals that a venerable teacher in ancient Greece promised wealthy parents that their sons would be "appropriately dressed" when presented at a banquet honoring the completion of their academic studies. However, when the young men entered the banquet hall dressed in simple sackcloth robes and carrying mortar boards, the mark of common workmen, a startled cry arose from the audience. "Let me explain," said the teacher as he raised his hands for silence. "Your sons are dressed in clothing of the mason, for their destiny is to build. Some will build cities, some will build lives—perhaps one of them may even build an empire. But all will be builders on the solid foundation of knowledge."

FACULTY AND STAFF EXCELLENCE AND ACHIEVEMENT AWARDS

The PSU Faculty and Staff Excellence and Achievement Awards acknowledge individuals who have achieved outstanding scholarship and accomplishments at Portland State University, and are one example of how we honor, recognize and incentivize the ongoing excellence of PSU faculty and staff, both through scholarship and dedication to PSU students.

BRANFORD PRICE MILLAR AWARD FOR FACULTY EXCELLENCE

Phillip J. Cooper, Ph.D.

PHILLIP J. COOPER is the Douglas & Candace Morgan Professor of Local Government in the Department of Public Administration in the Mark O. Hatfield School of Government. He is the author of numerous books and articles on public administration, public policy, administrative law, constitutional law, presidential powers, civil rights, law and public policy, the U.S. Supreme Court, and sustainable development. He is particularly well known at the national level and internationally as a leading expert on presidential powers such as the use and abuse of executive orders and presidential signing statements. He has also served as a consultant to the United Nations on sustainable development. He is active at the local government level in Oregon, leading the MPA program's local government administration specialization.

Professor Cooper is a Fellow of the National Academy of Public Administration. He was the first recipient of the Charles Levine Award given by the American Society for Public Administration and the National Association of Schools of Public Affairs and Administration for excellence in public affairs scholarship, teaching, and service.

He received his Ph.D. from the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs of Syracuse University and has taught at several universities with faculty appointments in Public Administration, Political Science, Public Policy, and Law.

“Dr. Cooper’s scholarship and research acquires additional strength in its close connection to the courses he teaches” says Masami Nishishiba, Ph.D., PSU Chair and Professor of Public Administration. “It is impressive how Dr. Cooper incorporates his scholarly work into his courses and brings the academic rigor of his scholarship into the classroom. His published work informs his courses, and he incorporates student feedback from the courses into his publications. The mutual reinforcement of scholarship and teaching strengthens his publications as well as the course contents.”

The Millar Award is given annually to a faculty member in a tenure-track or tenured appointment who has demonstrated excellence in the areas of scholarship, instruction, university service, and public service, and whose performance in the area of scholarship and research is judged to be exceptional.

GEORGE C. HOFFMANN AWARD

Maude Hines, Ph.D.

MAUDE HINES, PH.D. is an Associate Professor in the Department of English, and Affiliate Faculty in Black Studies and Women, Gender, and Sexuality Studies. Professor Hines's research and teaching interests are in American literature, with particular focus on children's literature and critical childhood studies, African American literature, and the Gothic. Professor Hines came to PSU after serving on the graduate faculty at the University of Florida, and has been on the PSU faculty for two decades.

Professor Hines received her Ph.D. in Literature from Duke University, and a B.A. in English from the City College of New York. At PSU, Professor Hines has been active in shared governance, serving on many committees at the departmental, college, university, and state level, including two terms as the Presiding Officer of the Faculty Senate. She has been appointed by two governors to serve on PSU's Board of Trustees. She is a recipient of two Ford Foundation fellowships and a Fulbright award (Germany). In addition to her traditional teaching, she has collaborated with colleagues on interdisciplinary and team-taught courses, worked with community partners to provide community-based learning opportunities for students, and designed hybrid (in-person and online) curriculum.

"Dr. Hines was an innovative and original teacher, bringing challenging questions, generative activities, and thought-provoking insights to her classroom" says former PSU student China Medel, Ph.D. "As my mentor for the McNair Scholars Program Maude provided me with weekly meetings, read countless drafts of my work, looked over conference papers, edited grad school applications, and counseled me on the process of applying, programs, and research. She is a consummate mentor and scholar and provides a level of dedication to her students that is, frankly, rare."

The Hoffmann Award is given annually to a faculty member in recognition of distinguished contributions to the University in the areas of instruction, university service, and scholarship which are done in the spirit of humanism, civility, and collegiality, with particular dedication to students and loyalty to the University. These values were especially cherished by the late George C. Hoffmann, a distinguished dean and professor of history at Portland State University.

KENNETH W. AND ELSIE W. BUTLER AWARD FOR LIBRARY FACULTY SERVICE

Elizabeth Pickard, M.S.I.

ELIZABETH PICKARD is the Science and Social Sciences Librarian at the Portland State University Library. Professor Pickard has been on the faculty since 2015 and has served as liaison to numerous departments, including Anthropology, Biology, Environmental Sciences and Management, Geography, Geology, Sustainability, and Systems Science.

Professor Pickard holds a Master of Science in Information from the University of Michigan and a Bachelor of Arts in anthropology from the University of Chicago. Her work explores the intersection of student research practices with curriculum, pedagogy, and services, and how these intersections shape what students learn. Her current research uses ethnographic methods to compare the effectiveness of different modes of information literacy instruction in asynchronous online-only courses. Professor Pickard received a Library Services and Technology Act grant from the Institute of Museum and Library Services for her work with five Illinois universities on the Ethnographic Research in Illinois Academic Libraries project as well as a Portland State University Faculty Development Grant for her research on geography majors' research practices.

"As Portland State and other colleges and universities shift more classes to the online-only environment, librarians have faced the challenge of providing students in an online, asynchronous class with information literacy instruction equivalent to an in-person library instruction session." says Associate Professor Joan Petit, Humanities and Social Sciences Librarian. "Professor Pickard experimented with different modes of delivering information literacy instruction...but went further, conducting a research study...to determine if different modes of instruction led to different outcomes. Few librarians take on such ambitious, longitudinal research projects, and to do so is an enormous service to librarians, faculty, and students. This research project is in addition to the excellence Professor Pickard brings to her everyday work, assisting students and faculty with research questions, teaching library instruction sessions, selecting materials for the library, and contributing to committees and working groups in the library and well beyond."

Professor Emeritus Kenneth W. Butler and his wife, Elsie W. Butler, endowed the award to annually recognize outstanding performance by a faculty member of the Branford P. Millar Library. The award recognizes their excellence in service to students, faculty, and other library patrons.

MARY H. CUMPSTON AWARD FOR SERVICE TO STUDENTS

Mary Vance, M.A.

MARY VANCE is a career counselor in the University Career Center and manages the Sustainability Internship Program for the Institute for Sustainable Solutions. She specializes in helping students find careers and internships in sustainability-related fields. She has devoted her life's work to education: first as a high school teacher in Grenada through the Peace Corps, then as an ESL instructor for recent refugees and immigrants in New York City, and now in her role in Advising and Career Services where she has been helping students navigate their current and future career aspirations since she was hired by Mary Cumpston 20 plus years ago.

Mary holds master's degrees in Counseling from the University of Maryland, College Park and Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages from Teachers College, Columbia University, and a Bachelor of Arts in Spanish from University of Colorado, Boulder. In her time at Portland State, Mary has developed experiential learning opportunities for students, including the creation of the Sustainability Internship Program. Other contributions to PSU include co-founding the Sustainability Mentor Program and the STAR grant program and serving on Faculty Senate and Academic Advising Council. She is a recipient of the Esther Mathews Award for lifetime achievement in career development and the Enrollment Management & Student Affairs Service Award.

“Like Mary Cumpston, Mary Vance has the ability to take an idea and bring it to fruition for the benefit of students” says colleague Louise Paradis, PSU Career Counselor. “Mary is a passionate advocate for PSU students and alums. She is gifted at seeking out collaborations and partnerships internal and external to the university. Mary dreams big and uses her creativity and sheer force of will to make things happen. And, like Mary Cumpston, Mary is beloved by students, alumni, faculty, staff, and community members.”

The Mary H. Cumpston Award for Service to Students is given annually to an academic professional or university administrator, without academic rank, who has demonstrated excellence in the area of service to students. Mary H. Cumpston was a beloved colleague who truly embodied the meaning of excellence in service to students at Portland State University.

PSU FOUNDATION PHILANTHROPIC CULTIVATION AWARD

Mario Díaz, M.M.

MARIO DÍAZ is an Adjunct Instructor in the College of the Arts, Artist Associate at Willamette University, Director of the PSU Guitar Series, and head of the guitar program at Young Musicians & Artists. He is a guitarist, vocalist, audio engineer, composer and educator whose musical activities have taken him across the United States and South America.

Instructor Díaz holds a bachelor's degree from Portland State University (2006) and a Master of Music in Performance from San Francisco Conservatory of Music (2013), where he studied with composer/guitarist Sergio Assad. In addition to teaching an eclectic mix of classes he most recently won a Regional Arts and Culture Council project grant (Spring 2019) for commissioning new duo works. During fall 2019, Instructor Díaz was a featured composer in the Homecomings concert (Third Angle New Music) for his newly commissioned chamber work "Peace Offering."

Instructor Díaz has been a tireless advocate for PSU's music program, and specifically the guitar area, bringing extensive community attention and patron support to the University. He goes beyond just asking patrons for financial support—he demonstrates a commitment to philanthropic community-building, outreach, and long-term donor cultivation. With support from the university and community, he brought the Guitar Series back to life, and he has since brought internationally renowned artists to PSU to perform, including the legendary Assad Brothers and multiple winners of classical guitar's most prestigious competition, Guitar Foundation of America. He is clearly growing a dedicated base of supporters and planning for the future. In year two of this program, Instructor Díaz has nearly doubled the amount of donations, raising $16,000 and establishing key relationships with a number of donors. In fact, current and past donors have already communicated their intent to increase their commitments next year, after which he plans to ask for several multi-year donations which will ensure that the series continues for many years to come.

The Portland State University Foundation Philanthropic Cultivation Award is given annually to a faculty or staff member in recognition of their role as a partner in cultivating philanthropic support for a priority program within their unit.

PSU FOUNDATION PHILANTHROPIC LEADERSHIP AWARD

Marisa A. Zapata, Ph.D.

MARISA A. ZAPATA is an associate professor of land-use planning in the Toulan School of Urban Studies & Planning and director of Portland State University's Homelessness Research & Action Collaborative (HRAC), an interdisciplinary research center dedicated to reducing and preventing homelessness with an emphasis on communities of color. As an educator, scholar, and planner, Professor Zapata is committed to achieving spatially-based social justice by preparing planners and policy makers to act in the face of uncertain and inequitable futures. She believes how we use land reflects our social and cultural values. She is especially concerned about equitable planning in highly diverse communities, and sees homelessness as a consequence of failing to put marginalized voices at the center of current planning and forecasts of the future.

Professor Zapata received her doctorate in Regional Planning from the University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign, her Master of Urban Planning from the University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign, and Bachelor of Arts in anthropology from Rice University. She was recently named one of Portland's unelected leaders by Portland Mercury for her role in using research to help understand homelessness.

Professor Zapata worked tirelessly to outline the need and promise of the HRAC to potential funders, from individual donors to foundations to government agencies. Her leadership, in concert with support from the PSU Foundation and senior PSU leadership, helped the center secure a $900,000 gift in late 2018. This gift has been used to elevate the work of the new center and transform how our community understands and engages with the issue of homelessness. The gift has been used to sponsor nearly a dozen graduate students to engage in research on homelessness they later presented to the public; to support a faculty grant program for multidisciplinary research across departments at PSU; and to fund the creation of the region's first comprehensive, annualized count of homelessness and housing insecurity.

The Portland State University Foundation Faculty Philanthropic Leadership Award is given annually to a faculty member in recognition of their role as a direct partner in obtaining a significant philanthropic gift.

COLLEGE OF THE ARTS

STUDENT SPEAKERS

Molly Jacobs

MOLLY JACOBS is graduating with a master's degree in architecture, after studying visual arts in undergraduate. She chose architecture in order to positively affect our built environments, to bring positive change to social, ecological, and emotional landscapes through architecture.

Molly received multiple scholarships and awards during her time at Portland State, including the Laurel's Graduate Award, the Denis P. Nordstrom Scholarship, and the Rudolph L. Barton Travel Fellowship. Each of these awards helped her tremendously, especially the travel fellowship which inspired her thesis research project.

After graduation, she hopes to begin interning at an architecture firm and work towards licensure as an architect in the next few years. Her goal is to make the world a better place for everyone to inhabit, one drawing, design, or conversation at a time.

Molly would like to thank her parents and siblings for supporting and encouraging her, as well as her partner, Matt, who inspires her every day. She would also like to thank her mentors, instructors, and colleagues who have all contributed to her success, and who made her time at Portland State memorable and meaningful.

Caitlyn Sparkman

CAITLYN SPARKMAN is graduating with a bachelor's degree in Graphic Design. Born and raised in Oregon, she considers it a privilege to have attended school in the heart of one of the state's most vibrant cities. She is a first-generation college student, and she completed her program as a full-time worker and commuter student.

Ms. Sparkman is inspired by the ability of design to empower people, tell complex narratives, and solve both large and small scale problems. Her personal interests lie in design research and history, and how they can be used to create lasting and meaningful work for audiences. She is thankful for the resources and connections the Graphic Design program at Portland

State has to the larger community, giving students the best support in transitioning to the professional world.

Her biggest accomplishments from Portland State came from the ability to collaborate with other talented designers, musicians, filmmakers, and local businesses. Ms. Sparkman looks forward to becoming more involved in local arts communities in Portland and hopes to explore leadership roles in these communities before returning to college for a graduate degree.

Akitora Ishii

AKITORA ISHII hails from Rainier, OR, and is graduating with his bachelor's in Theater Arts. His love of theater began in high school and drew him to Lower Columbia College, where he earned his associate degree in Drama, and his passion for acting was solidified.

Within PSU's School of Music and Theater, he has been inspired time and again by the resilience and dedication of his fellow students. In addition to faculty-led shows, he has had the privilege of working on two almost entirely student-helmed productions, as actor and assistant director. Outside the Theater Program, PSU's curriculum has allowed him to study as a filmmaker and engage with student artists of all mediums.

During his time at Portland State, his education has been supported by the Goldie Chan Scholarship, the Lois & Oscar Mock Scholarship, the Crowell Theater & Film Scholarship, and the Resident Opportunity Scholarship. The generosity of all involved has made it possible for him to excel in his studies while pursuing his passions.

He would like to thank his mentors Devon Allen and Mike O'Connell for believing in him, pushing him when necessary, and making him the actor he is today. He would also like to thank past instructors Susan Donahue and Betsy Richard for guiding his baby steps in the theater.

Finally, he would like to thank his mother for her continued love and support of his dreams.

COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS

Honorary Degree Recipient Jordan D. Schnitzer, DHumL, hc '20

Native Oregonian Jordan Schnitzer is the President of Harsch Investment Properties, a Portland based Real Estate Acquisition, Development and Management Company started by his father in 1951.

Harsch has regional offices in Seattle, Portland, San Francisco, Sacramento, Las Vegas and San Diego which oversee a portfolio of over 27,000,000 square feet of office, industrial, retail and multifamily properties. With a staff of over 300, Jordan has built Harsch into one of the largest privately held real estate property and management companies based in the Western United States.

Jordan's first involvement in civic and community activities began with board memberships at the Japanese Garden Society of Oregon, the University of Oregon Art Museum, and the Portland Art Museum. Since that time, he has served on over 30 nonprofit boards and organizations.

Following his family's commitment to support art and culture Jordan has created one of the largest contemporary print and multiple collections of post-World War II American artists, which he shares with the public. He and his family's foundation have funded and organized over 140 exhibitions from his collection, which has traveled to more than 90 museums. Jordan serves as President of the Harold and Arlene Schnitzer CARE Foundation which has made grants in the excess of one hundred and fifty million dollars in the last twenty years. He also is President of the Jordan Schnitzer Family Foundation which has funded the renovations of the Jordan Schnitzer Museum of Art at the University of Oregon, and the construction of the Jordan Schnitzer Museum of Art at Washington State University and the Jordan Schnitzer Museum of Art at Portland State University.

Jordan is a 1973 graduate of the University of Oregon and in 1976 received his doctorate degree from Northwestern School of Law at Lewis and Clark College.

COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS AND SCIENCES

STUDENT SPEAKERS

Robert Lewis

ROBERT LEWIS is graduating with a bachelor's degree in Chemistry.

Robert failed out of college when he was 18 and it took him a long time to realize that it was something he needed. He returned to school at 28 years old with a renewed maturity and focus to succeed. He credits his family with always cheering him on and listening to his occasional rant about chemistry.

While at PSU, he was a part of the S-STEM program, which not only provided him with funding but with a cohort of STEM students to commiserate with and work together to tackle challenges. He says the program had a huge impact on his ability to succeed at PSU.

Robert is headed to the University of Rochester in New York to pursue a doctorate in Chemistry. He wants to work in renewable energies to help in the fight against climate change.

His time at PSU has been some of the best years of his life and he is grateful to everyone who has been a part of his journey.

He would like to thank PSU Professors Theresa McCormick, Erin Shortlidge, Rick Hugo, Suzanne Estes; April Ann Fong and Stacey Fiddler at Portland Community College; Scott Zellmer; and his friends and family.

Lauren McKinney-Wise

LAUREN MCKINNEY-WISE is graduating with a bachelor's degree in Geography and a minor in Geographic Information Systems (GIS).

Lauren was drawn to geography because it encompasses the interaction of place, people, and culture. Learning about GIS has helped her understand that maps are tools of communication, storytelling, and power, and she's interested in helping to make GIS and map-making accessible to community members as powerful tools for advocacy and social change.

Lauren, who struggled to finish high school, credits the advice of teachers and peers with helping her learn to thrive in college. At Portland State, she met some amazing instructors, who encouraged her to continue to grow through extracurriculars, challenging projects, and volunteer work. They helped her realize that the power for success was within her all along — not because she was special, but because she tried even when she didn't believe that she could succeed. One of her most memorable experiences was planning the Cartography Symposium with the PSU GIS Club.

Lauren will be returning to PSU in the fall to pursue a master's in Geography.

She would like to thank her husband, Jeff; her family, and her geography and GIS professors: David Banis, Christina Friedle, Geoffrey Duh, and Randy Morris.

Haley Okamoto

HALEY OKAMOTO is graduating with a bachelor's degree in Communication Studies.

A first-generation college student from the small, rural island of Kaua'i, Hawai'i, Haley has had to overcome the unknown, imposter syndrome and self-doubt — but it ultimately made her more resilient.

She is grateful for the financial support she received at PSU, including the Western Undergraduate Exchange program, EMPOWER, the Ronald E. McNair Scholars Program, and the University Studies peer mentor program.

Her most memorable experience at PSU was studying abroad in Spain last summer to complete her senior capstone. She has enjoyed and made the most of her years here, and says that every person she's met and every experience she's gone through has helped shape her.

Haley eventually wants to earn a doctorate, and hopes to become a role model for future generations of Native Hawaiians who want to pursue higher education.

She would like to thank her parents, who taught her the importance of education and have consistently supported her goals; her family; every mentor she's had at PSU; and for anyone who has taken the time to get to know her for who she is. Mahalo nui loa to everyone that has been a part of her PSU journey.

Sarah Rohr

SARAH ROHR is graduating with a bachelor's degree in Judaic Studies.

Sarah, who grew up in Austin, Texas, wanted to learn more about her Jewish roots from the inside out.

At the encouragement of Professor Natan Meir, Sarah applied and received the Harold Schnitzer Family Scholarship and the Sara Glasgow Cogen Memorial Scholarship and Internship, which provided her with an opportunity to intern with the Jewish Federation of Greater Portland.

During her time at PSU, Sarah felt privileged to engage in scholarly discussions with so many broadly thinking people.

As a neurodivergent learner who had not been in school for over a decade, the process of learning to write well in an academic sense was a feat, and Sarah credits the Disability Resource Center with helping to acknowledge learning challenges.

Sarah is a mom to a 5-year-old, Hebrew and Culture teacher, songwriter, author, poet, visual artist and healing practitioner. Sarah serves on the PSU President's Council, Jewish Community Relations Council, and The Intergroup Outreach.

After graduation, Sarah plans to focus on human empowerment and methods to aid in human rights struggles. Sarah will also finish writing a book and release a musical album under the alias The Mikvah Lady.

Sarah would like to thank her husband, Brian; son, Gabriel; parents, Cooky and David; sister, Shayna; and in-laws, aunts, uncles, teachers, and professors and all the friends who gift her their love.

COLLEGE OF URBAN AND PUBLIC AFFAIRS

STUDENT SPEAKERS

Vincent "Walle" Brown

VINCENT "WALLE" BROWN is completing the Master of Urban and Regional Planning program (MURP). Originally from Georgia, Walle Brown's trajectory started in the American South, jumped to Southeast Asia, and then returned briefly to the south before moving northwestward to Oregon. After graduating from undergrad, completing a Fulbright in South Korea, and completing the MURP, Walle is looking forward to establishing geographic stability. Walle received a Portland Planning Diversity Award from the Toulon School of Urban Studies and Planning, held two graduate assistantships, and worked more than 10 jobs to finance his degree. Walle is African American and comes from a family of academic high achievement and stunted professional growth due to race-based discrimination. Walle intends to break this chain by becoming a leader of public institutions. At PSU, Walle most fondly appreciates his participation in the Tuition Review Advisory Committee, the PSU Hip-Hop Alliance, and standing up to the powerful institutional forces when they are wrong. Walle will be a mayor, director, real estate owner, and respected community leader.

Karinate Amabebe

KARINATE AMABEBE, while at PSU, discovered a passion for world cultures and social and environmental issues. She especially enjoyed the opportunity to tutor African refugee children at a local elementary school. Karinate's father immigrated to the U.S. from Nigeria. Through stories, he gave her an awareness of how people live in developing countries and taught her not to take for granted the privileges of being American. As a child, Karinate was homeschooled by her mother, who nurtured her creativity, and encouraged her to pursue her passions.

Karinate would like to thank her mother, siblings, and partner for their consistent love, understanding, and support. She would also like to thank the PSU faculty and staff for creating an exceptional learning environment. Lastly, she would like to thank her late father, who taught her the importance of education and that knowledge is a lifetime pursuit.

Regina Navarro-Gomez

REGINA NAVARRO-GOMEZ built a community of students interested in international affairs, internships, and workshops. She founded the International & Global Studies Student Association and PSU's first chapter of Sigma Iota Rho. As a first-generation student and parent, it was necessary for her to seek financial assistance to complete her degree. She was awarded four scholarships that were imperative to her academic and professional success. She completed four internships and she is currently an intern with the U.S. Department of State's Bureau of Educational & Cultural Affairs and the Assistant Training Director for AMIGOS de las Americas, Portland. Regina plans to continue her work with the State Department and AMIGOS.

Her future plans include obtaining a master's in International Affairs and joining the ranks of the Department of State's foreign service. Regina would like to thank her parents, daughter, and husband for their unconditional support and the Department of International Studies for their support and encouragement.

MASEEH COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING AND COMPUTER SCIENCE

STUDENT SPEAKERS

Brian Delgado

BRIAN DELGADO is graduating with a doctorate in Computer Science. He began his educational journey at Lewis and Clark College in Portland, earning a bachelor's degree in History in 1999. In 2002, he enrolled at PSU and began taking prerequisites to enter the Computer Science (CS) graduate program. After taking one or two courses a term while working full-time at Intel, he formally entered the CS master's program in 2008 and graduated with his master's in 2010. About a year after graduating, Brian found himself seeking a new challenge and in 2011 he began his doctoral studies in Computer Science.

Brian has been working at Intel for over 20 years and decided to pursue his doctorate degree in a broad discipline that is both theoretical and practical. He has always been fascinated by computers and feels empowered by the ability to adapt computers to solve problems he cares about. Brian plans to continue research in industry and may also keep a foot in the academic research world going forward.

He would especially like to thank his advisor Professor Karavanic for all of her support and guidance throughout the process of earning his doctorate. He'd also like to thank the EPA-RIMM research team at PSU for all of their contributions on their project. Lastly, he'd like to thank his family and his workplace for the support they provided for him to pursue his education.

Ana Tijerina Esquino

ANA TIJERINA ESQUINO is graduating with a Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering. Born and raised in Mexico City, Ana watched as her mother worked tirelessly to move her family to Southern California to escape the increasing violence and provide her children with an opportunity for a better future. She started middle school in the United States in a new language and had trouble adjusting to life in a different country, both emotionally and academically. Navigating through these barriers, she graduated from high school and worked full-time while taking one course at a time at a local community college.

After finally landing at PSU, she devoted herself with the unwavering strength that she'd seen her parents use. It was here that Ana got the opportunity to prove to herself that she was smart, hard-working, and capable.

In her final year at PSU, she received several scholarships. These scholarships enabled her to devote herself more to student groups and research projects as they made it possible for her to focus on school full time. Ana served as the president of the ASCE PSU chapter and enjoyed traveling to competitions with her fellow members and building her network. For fun, Ana does a lot of hiking and yoga, and is involved with Belegarth, a medieval combat society.

After graduation, Ana will start in an engineering position at Mott MacDonald and will be working on a variety of civil and environmental engineering projects. She plans to go to graduate school for the 2021 school year.

OHSU-PSU SCHOOL OF PUBLIC HEALTH

COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS

Rachael Banks, Public Health Director, Multnomah County Health Department

RACHAEL BANKS, MPA, is the Public Health Director for Multnomah County Health Department. As the director of the largest local public health division in the state of Oregon, Rachael oversees strategies to protect, assure and promote the health of over 800,000 people across 6 cities, including Portland. Currently she is leading the unprecedented public health response to COVID-19. She received her Bachelor's degree in Psychology from Gonzaga University and her Masters of Public Administration from Portland State University. She is a proud mother, dedicated wife and faithful children's Church teacher.

In her professional role, Rachael works with fabulous colleagues to convene brilliant partners to advance policy and systemic strategies to eliminate health inequities and support a community health improvement plan (CHIP) designed specifically to achieve health equity. She leads the Public Health Division's 300-plus employees in the core areas of environmental health, communicable disease prevention, chronic disease prevention and health promotion. The Public Health Division utilizes research and assessment, health policy, community engagement, culturally-specific strategies and community-level education as core strategies to promote/protect the public's health.

During her past 20 years in Public Health, she has led the Multnomah County Health Department's Healthy Birth Initiative (HBI), Healthy Families and REACH programs. She managed the tobacco policy program while it implemented Oregon's smokefree workplace law to over 80,000 businesses. She has also led some of the County's obesity prevention efforts, including the CDC's ACHIEVE Initiative and components of Communities Putting Prevention to Work, which increased healthy food access for over 60,000 people in faith-based settings, among numerous other outcomes.

Rachael leads inclusively with race towards the elimination of health inequities. Under Rachael's leadership, the County has been awarded nearly 15 million dollars in grant funding specifically allocated to decreasing health inequities in the African American/Black community. She was the Director of the Equity, Planning and Strategy Division, which partnered with communities to implement culturally-specific strategies in the Pacific Islander, Native and Indigenous, Latinx and Immigrant and Refugee communities. Additionally, Rachael has worked with Multnomah County's Board of Health to identify policies that could increase the years and quality of life for every person in the county. In response to COVID-19, Rachael has prioritized Black, Indigenious and People of Color (BIPOC); Multnomah County is working with communities to create and implement culturally-specific strategies, ensuring that all communities have access to what they need to be healthy.

SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WORK

STUDENT SPEAKERS

India Wynne

INDIA WYNNE is graduating with a bachelor's degree in Social Work. They joined the Marine Corps in 2000. After serving five years and two tours in Afghanistan, India struggled with post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD). It was the kindness of a social worker that pulled them back from the darkness. On the road to healing, India knew that they had to be that beacon in the dark for others.

As a student leader, India has shown their compassion by fiercely advocating on behalf of student veterans, the LGBTQ+ community and all marginalized communities. In the summer, they will begin PSU's Advanced Standing Master of Social Work program with a focus on Practice and Leadership with Communities. They plan to continue their education and receive a PhD in Social Work with a goal of becoming a federal policy advisor.

India would like to thank their sister for proving to them that superheroes do exist. They would like to thank their NA family for carrying them while they learned to fly. They would like to thank the entire BSW faculty for grace, empathy, courage, and always encouraging them to dream bigger. Most of all, India would like to thank their service dog for being by their side through every second of this adventure.

Jaxyn R. Brown

JAXYN R. BROWN is graduating with a master's degree in Social Work, specializing in behavioral health integration. Jaxyn is passionate about utilizing innovative methods to improve social determinants of health for vulnerable populations, especially transgender and gender diverse individuals and their families; they are grateful the Behavioral Health Integration Project provided the means for this focus.

Jaxyn's background in campaign development using non-traditional methods has encouraged their focus in telehealth to improve access to healthcare. Their passion in healthcare developed in pediatric oncology settings in Kansas City and among patients at MD Anderson Cancer Center. Jaxyn grew up in rural Kansas, and since moving to Portland, knows their work will continue until transgender and gender diverse youth and families, from rural Oregon to Kansas, feel safe.

Mx Jaxyn Roux Brown greatly appreciates the relationships they have with fellow transgender and gender diverse individuals oriented toward social justice. Their field experience with Legacy Health's Gender and Sexual Health Program provided Jaxyn with a community of care, especially during the pandemic; they are incredibly grateful for the influence this team has on the resiliency they will carry throughout their career. They also thank the fierce LGBTQ+ individuals in Oregon and PSU's school of social work, as well as their advisors who have supported them. They are most thankful for Becca, their partner whose layers of strength serve as their inspiration, and their silly pup Neko.

COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS*Honorary Degree Recipient Tawna D. Sanchez, DHumL, '20*

REPRESENTATIVE TAWNA D. SANCHEZ has spent her life working to strengthen our community. Born of Shoshone-Bannock, Ute, and Carrizo, Tawna grew up in Portland, and for many years has been a leader fighting for the rights of women, indigenous people, and the most vulnerable. She remains committed to standing up for social justice on the side of the oppressed, and pushing to make our systems more equitable.

Representative Sanchez earned an Interdisciplinary Bachelor of Arts from Marylhurst in Psychology and Communications in 2008 and a Master of Social Work from Portland State University in 2012. She is currently the Family Services Director at the Native American Youth and Family Center (NAYA Family Center). Sanchez was elected to the Oregon State Legislature in 2016 as the Representative for HD 43 in North and Northeast Portland and is the Chair of the House Human Services Committee. She is only the second Native American to ever serve in Oregon's Legislature.

As the Director of Family Services at NAYA Family Center, Sanchez has worked to both provide and improve services to Native women who have experienced domestic violence, developing programs to serve Native American Elders, children from 0-5 years old, and most importantly programs that serve the disproportionate numbers of Native American children in the child welfare system. Sanchez has taken this experience as a service provider to the Oregon Legislature, bringing real life experience and real social work values to the legislative process.

Portland State University awards honorary degrees to acknowledge individuals who have achieved outstanding scholarship or artistic accomplishments or performed distinguished public service during their lifetime.

THE SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

STUDENT SPEAKERS

Kristen Currens

KRISTEN CURRENS, Master of Business Administration, is a mother, wife, and wetland scientist who, two years ago, saw a gap in the business acumen in the local consulting community. She used The Portland MBA program to help fill this gap and with the goal of balancing the natural and built environments using business as the catalyst. She's now starting an environmental group at a local civil engineering firm, MacKay Sposito. Kristen grew up in southern Illinois and attended Truman State University in northeast Missouri, where she received a Bachelor of Science in Biology. She moved west in 2001 for fascinating internships with the National Park Service and has called Portland her home since 2006. She has been supported through her career and the MBA program by her husband, Chris, and children, Linnea and Spencer.

Sharona Shnayder

SHARONA SHNAYDER, Bachelor of Science in Accounting, chose her concentration in order to pursue a position as an auditor so she can recommend ways for businesses to improve their sustainability practices and consider the moral/ethical implications of their actions within society and on the planet. Sharona's family comes from a diverse background both experientially and culturally. She is half Nigerian and half Israeli, and spent most of her childhood growing up in Africa before moving to Oregon at the age of eight. During her time at PSU, Sharona has received many scholarships, including the Prof. Raymond and Marilyn L. Johnson Scholarship and the Thrasher Family Scholarship. After graduation, she will prepare to sit for the CPA exam while learning Hebrew, and packing up to move to Israel in the spring of 2021 where she will pursue an internship offer with PW&C in Tel Aviv. Sharona would like to thank her faculty, friends and mentors for their support.
