Major Plan On Call to Set

A vast new employment program for young men or women of about $2.5 million for city-wide operation is to go into effect July 1.

It will be known as the Concentrated Employment Program or CEP.

The program is under the auspices of the Department of Labor's Bureau of Work Training Programs and its local sponsor is expected to be the Portland Metropolitan Steering Committee which is directed by the War on Poverty programs.

Final plans have not been made but Richard Bowes, coordinator with the Steering Committee, said possibly 300 persons would be involved at one time, receiving skill training, pre-vocational counseling, counseling for job placement, as well as health services, transportation, family counseling, recreation, literacy help, etc.

Programs will be set up to go out and find job-seekers who need help but who do not know how to go about getting it, and also to provide as analysis of the reasons why some persons are unable to get jobs.

A joint planning effort will

The People Speak

One of the needs in the Albina community is a little more desire backed with willingness to act. It's the sort of thing known in the hill country talk of some years ago as "gumption."

What brings this up? Well, 35 Negroes showed interest in getting special help in taking the Civil Service examination to qualify as Portland Police. They applied for the help and attended one or more of the classes.

How many showed up for the examination? Only five. Of those who showed up, 40 or 50 were only black.

Some may have had good reasons for not showing up. But it looks like a lot more education is needed in our community if we are going to be able to take advantage of services that are being offered to the black man in getting the share of jobs he ought to get.

A Right All Should Have

An Albina district mothers has gone to court to try to force the Portland schools to give written notice and a chance for a hearing before expelling a student.

It seems strange that it should be necessary to ask for this. Has the Portland School Board and its administrators never heard of the U.S. Constitution and its several guarantees of the rights of the people? Has it not heard that a person is innocent until proven guilty and that an accused person has the right to be confronted by his accuser?

It is true that school authorities and the thing the Constitution was talking about, but the principle is there and any­ once really interested in justice will follow it in all things, whether forced to do so or not.

The Reason Behind It

How many people driving cars today recognize their responsibility that rests upon the control of their vehicles? At every crossing, there lurks a tragedy just waiting to happen. A little child chasing a dog, a careless pedestrian looking another way, the inevitable reckless driver in a hurry to go nowhere, ignoring a stop sign and last and most tragic, the youngest riding his bike, are all waiting to happen.

There is so much you can do. First, always turn your headlights on, day or night. And then, be careful and obey traffic signs. Drive for yourself and for the other fellow too. You need but see one collision to know the strain of the grown-up or the little toddler that has stepped in front of a fast moving car to impress this on your mind. Or picture the little girl lying in the street alongside the wrecked car of her bicycle, maybe never to walk or laugh and play again, struck down before they had a chance to live.

Maybe they were in the wrong but who hasn't been at some time or other? It will be no solace to your consci­ ence when you realize a little defensive driving could have prevented it from happening.

This is the age of high pow­ ered autos with speed to burn. Whether you are driving 10 miles or 70 miles, it is not a good idea to be racing around a corner. There is plenty of old time, the toddler and the kids on bicycles have a future. Don't deny it of them.

Crews Takes Scout Post

The Columbia Pacific Council, Boy Scouts of America, has added a new executive to its Northwest area. He is the second Negro to work on the executive level of the scouting program.

Charles Crews, an Albina resident, will assist Robert Moore, district scout executive, in charge of Lewis and Clark districts.

The two men want to revitalize the already established troops in the area and form new troops.

Crews says, "The scouting program is especially important to the Albina area. The scout leaders are images of masculinity in action, advice and experience of which many of the boys in our community are badly in need."

Crews and Moore will make visits to all individuals or groups who would like to volunteer as scout leaders. The following are FTA's and other institutions new sponsoring the troops in the area: Salem elementary school, Lebanon elementary school, Mt. Olive Baptist Church, Highland elementary school, Robert School, Sullivan elementary school, Portland United Presbyterian Church, McKinley Temple Church of God in Christ, Vancouver Avenue First Presbyterian Church and the Salvation Army.

North Catholic Students Meet Ambassadors

Miss Bernadette Scott was hostess for a get-together of young men from the Ambassadors Club and students from North Catholic High School March 15.

Twelve members of the Ambassadors met with 12 students from North Catholic High to discuss "How Teen-Agers Can Better the Racial Situation Today."

The meeting was a continuation of a March 10 discussion between the two groups at the home of a North Catholic student who the teenagers talked about what they could do to help lower the dropout problem in high schools.

WHAT FINANCIAL AIDS ARE THERE?

Here is a question frequently asked of us at Caldwell's COLONIAL MORTUARY.

Q. What financial aids are available to help with funeral expenses?
A. Depending on the eligibility of the deceased:
1. A maximum of $250, from Social Security.
2. $250 from the Veteran's Administration.
3. A special allowance from State Welfare.
4. Other funds from various fraternal and union groups.

All of these must be requested—they are not automatic benefits. Your funeral director will assist.

This question is one of a series taken from our funeral brochure. "Basic Funeral Information." If you would like a free copy, just call 232-4111 and ask. It will be mailed to you the same day.

New Park on Schedule

The new park being built on the four square blocks north of Failing Street and west of Highland Street is beginning to take shape.

The baseball area has been leveled and the backstop put in place. This, along with grassed areas that will extend out from the ball diamond, covers nearly the eastern half of the park.

The western half will be made up of a great variety of things for children, Lee Dimmitt, foreman for the contractor, L. S. Upplinghouse Co., said work was on schedule. It started Jan. 15 and will be completed some time in the summer.

The area is mostly now but already some of the outlines are apparent. A maze built of planks is nearly completed.

Some 8 to 10 men have been employed by these transient termite crews, which are to come.

Another one of the favorite methods used by these transient termite crews is what is called the “scare technique.” They make what is supposed to be an “inspection” of the prospective home and without fail they will produce evidence of termites. This is simple enough...because they carry as “props” jars filled with termites and worm eaten boards.

Aridated tree is in place around which concrete columns will be poured. The columns will support a roof for a play area and shelter.

Dimmitt said there would be swings, and climbing ropes, balancing rails and other things that children like.

Much of the western park will be blacktopped and this cannot be done until dry summer weather is had.

Some 8 to 10 men have been employed the past two months although the number has varied.

Dimmitt said the work includes one Negro carpenter and one Negro carpenter’s apprentice as well as Negro laborers from the community.

Termite’s Common Now

Fake termite “experts” frequently victimize timid homeowners. Peaky termites are probably gullied away at work, on a year around basis, but the equally destructive fake “termite control spec­ialists” usually stop upon their activity of putting the bite on homeowners as spring approaches.

Model Cities Seeks Volunteer Co-ordinator

The Model Cities Program has announced a job opening for a volunteer co-ordinator. Duties and responsibilities of this position include securing and co-ordinating the services of persons who can render volunteer services to the programme. This position will include describing the tasks that can be performed by volunteers in the administrative as well as the planning portion of the programme. A reservoir of volunteer talent and a catalogue of volunteer skills will be maintained by the co-ordinator. This person will constantly advise the staff director and the planning teams of the special talents that are available for all aspects of the programme. The co-ordinator will also be responsible for co-ordinating the training of the volunteers and the evaluation of their services. The co-ordinator will also relate to existing volunteer groups throughout the city to seek their involvement in the Model Cities Program. A close record and documentation of all volunteer services rendered will be kept by the volunteer co-ordinator.

Special abilities the volunteer co-ordinator should have are a thorough understanding of the aims and objectives of the Model Cities Program and the ability to interpret them to others; a readiness and capacity to work with people from all walks of life and to communicate with them productively; the ability to organise and co-ordinate the training of the volunteers and the evaluation of their services; and the ability to relate to existing volunteer groups throughout the city to seek their involvement in the Model Cities Program.

Previous experience needed for the job is experience in working with community groups. The person should be prepared to take further courses in studies related to the work. An acquaintance with community agencies, clubs, and professional groups would be an asset. A resident of the area who meets these qualifications will be given preference.

The salary range is $470 to $525. Applications for the job can be filled out at the Model Cities office, 1207 N.E. Union Avenue, Suite 210, the State Employment Service, North Branch Office in the More For Less Shopping Center, or the Albina Neighborhood Service Center at 59 N.E. Stanton.

Deadline Approaches

On Prep Art Show

The deadline for entering the Second Annual Portland High School Art Show is fast approaching.

Anyone planning to partake in this exhibition-competition should submit his or her work to the Art Center by March 30.

Painting, graphics, sculpture, textiles, ceramics and other handicrafts are encouraged from high school students interested in attending public, parochial or private schools in the Portland area. Judges for the contest will be prominent local artists. A formal presentation of the three cash awards and the honorable mentions in each category will take place at the Art Center reception from 2 to 5 p.m. Easter Sunday, April 15. The public is welcome to attend both the reception and the show. The exhibit will be in the Art Center from April 5-30.

Clarence A. Porter, assistant professor of biology at Portland State College, is one of 10 persons in the U.S. to win a National Institute of Health fellowship to study parasitology in a foreign country this summer.

Dr. Porter, now 26, attended Lebanon University in this summer is exciting. Porter says, "You can study in school and work in lab but seeing for yourself the people afflicted by diseases caused by parasites will give me background I couldn't get any other way," he said.

While at Oregon State, he started a colony of germs, free rats for use in experiments dealing with parasites. During the past year, he has done research and written articles on the salmon, pollock, flounders and Pacific Northwest anchovies. From June 25 to August 23, two research groups of five men each will visit hospitals and study parasitic diseases and tropical medicine in various countries in the Caribbean or Central America. Porter does not yet know which group he will be assigned to. Because the trip will be so strenuous, family members are not allowed, which means that his wife Carol and parents will stay at their home at 560 S.E. 65th Ave., in Portland.

Meet A Rare Bird A Black Actress

"Lynn Hamilton, Actress. That is who I am — and it's a SOLID HOUR OF SOLID NEWS family still lives there. It was finished her last performance continued, "I joined my high college where she had just played the leading role. Miss Hamilton is an accomplished woman with good reviews, began a career that now includes four Broadway plays, five off-Repertory Theater where she with "wonder materials" to -sponsoring agents. But there is brutality. and making costumes before I resolved there would never be any roles for A black actress on that stage, I quit and began saving my money. I knew I had talent but would need the best training available to succeed. "Luckily for me, the Good­man Theatre, which is the best dramatics school in this country, is in Chicago: A school by day and a theater at night. It was two years before there was a role for me, a black actress. I acted outside of the school at night with The Skylark Players." At this point, Miss Hamilton's destiny became a bit embarrassed and prolonged. "It didn't mean for this to be a biography, I just wanted it understood that this is a tough business. To suc­ceed one has to be willing to work, and work hard." I studied the first two years after graduation, working at every thing but acting in New York. I got my first part in a small off-Broadway revival of Anna Lucasta. It was a poor production but it went on for a long enough time for me to get my Equity card." That small part, coupled with good reviews, began a career that now includes four Broadway plays, free off­-the-­stage seasons, two of which has been the New York Shakespeare Festival and the first national tour with Helen Hayes, under the auspices of the U.S. Government's Cultural Exchange Program.

Adoptions

Q, How much red tape is there in adoptions? A, Many people make a point of telling us they are surprised at how little red tape there is. We at the Boys and Girls Aid Society are as anxious as our ap­licants to cut out red tape, as our job is to place children with loving parents as fast as possible. A rare bird indeed, a working black actress, Miss Hamilton is an accomplished professional. She has worked in radio, motion pictures, and television. She leaves Port­land to join the Seattle Repertory Theatre where she will appear in "Three Penny Opera" and a role in "The Rivals." In 1966, the Seattle Repertory imported Miss Hamilton to play the female lead in Moliere's comedy, "Tartuffe." "I'm a black actress with a classical background and they don't know what to do with me down there."

Five Year Plan To End Ghetto

Ellie H. Casson, deputy director of the Model Cities program, pointed out the necessity for meaningful participation when she spoke before the Hollywood Lions Club Tuesday, Casson explained that the program was not urban renewal, nor was it designed to solve unemployment, "We are engaged in drawing up a plan, which if approved by the federal government, will give us action funds in 1969. These funds will finance the start of a five-year program to rid our city of ghetto living conditions," Casson told the Lions.

"We are in a brick quilt and sewer era," he shrugged his shoulders. "The Model Cities program located at it by the editor of another newspaper as a loud voice in the wilderness."

When the Advance/Times was referred to as the "model cities paper," the statement was quickly corrected by a member of the audience, who added, "No advertiser buys the editorial policy of any newspaper with two adts."

Teen Center

(Continued from Page 1) keep the center open from 9 a.m. until curfew each evening. The center will be staffed, managed and run by teenagers. An adult will be on hand to counsel and advise if asked.

A meeting will be held for teen center Tuesday, March 24 at the North Branch Y at 6 p.m. All teenagers are invited to this meeting to help plan and set up the operation. At this time, Probly plans to explain and inform all interested teens what is involved to get the organization started.

The possibility of a second teen center was suggested this week by a junior high student at Benson Tech, and Lincoln High, each is 17.

They said they had been planning the club for some time, had received offers of help, but had no idea how to back or make definite plans.

They said teenagers want a choice in their activities, a second center might be thought of as a sufficient distance from the first, where they will be able to choose what they want. This will make themselves, so a second club, at 6 p.m. would be a good plan.

Residents Seek (Continued from Page 1) representatives. Another Al Borland regular, Dick Cofari, who also filed for the Democratic nomination to the legislature.

All of the candidates are from a community, and as a member of a number of organizations.

The community has been a resident of Albina for 13 years. H. L. (Mort) LeCroy, 45, an engineer, has been with the Bonneville Power Administration and has been active in school affairs. Thomas, a professional wrestler and real estate salesman, has been active in dealing with youth groups. Smith has served the legislature for a number of years as an employee during the sessions and has been a candidate in the past. Cofari, a graduate of the University of Portland, is employed at the C C & P Opportunity Center is under the aegis of the Clinton County Development Committee for the annual meeting.

The ROVING REPORTER

They're Forgetting Our Teens

First stop in the ROVING Reporter's wandering this week was Francis Cafe on N. Vancouver between Fremont and Beech, I was pleased to see the proprietor, Francis M. Blair, who warmly invited me to sit at her table and talk. She has been a resident of Portland for 15 years and has been in the restuarant business almost all of her life. She is employed as a clerks from Wichita, Kan., where she was in business 20 years.

She lit her pipe and said, "I didn't plan to give any courage on opening here, There is a Negro leader of our community that tries to discourage all of the white people and more entertainment for the young people."

"It's the kids that need help, They keep them off the streets."

She punched the tobacco in her pipe, toyed with it and said, "I can't understand, in the future, if we have effect now, there is need to employ those children. They keep them off the streets."

"The neighborhood centers are helping the adults; this is good, but we're not forgetting about our teens, there is no accreditation for them, it is a pretense, they are in the groups and in the halls. It's the kids that need help."

The adults are trying to join the neighborhood centers and move them then they are trying to do something about it. They are employed in the streets is sponsored by adults using these kids and taking their money. Every kid wants money, it gives him a little discipline and a little pride in forever rambling. These adult kids are the future of these kids going away," She tugged her pipe on the side of the ash tray and said, "I've never had any trouble with them, no more than loud talking, and when it goes too far, then I take over, if adults carry themselves right, our teens will respect and trust them."

"If you carry yourself right, our teens will respect and trust us, If you carry yourself wrong, they will not have any trouble, But the key is, don't mess up the book, be honest."

"We are going to have to do something for ourselves. We have free services, We must forget about the past and forget about the Janesett and we can make it. Grown-ups Negroes don't want to be themselves, we must push the youth of our race, Most of the white folks are sitting on the pot and doing nothing, it has to be changed."

Mrs. Blair operates a restaurant in her house, She has a big home, She has her pipe, toyed with it and said, "I've made it. What we need is the community to make it."

Mrs. Annie Ruth Hammond, who resides at 9737 N. 7th and has been a resident of Albina since 1945, operated Frances Cafe for lunch. She is employed as an assembler for Pacific Bagg. She has a big home, She has her pipe, toyed with it and said, "I've made it. What we need is the community to make it."

If You Moved, Register Again
If you have changed your address by moving within the same precinct or to another precinct, changed your name by marriage or court order, or changed political parties, or changed your political party, then you must re-register by April 27 in order to vote in the May 28 primary election.

Every registered voter is sent a Voters' Pamphlet containing information on candidatures and ballot measures to his address of last registration. The postman has been instructed not to forward Voters' Pamphlets if they are unsuitable. Your Voters' Pamphlet is returned to the secretary of state, you will be challenged at the polls. You may swear that your address is correct if you have not moved since you registered and you will be allowed to vote.

Remember, if you have made any of the above changes, you must re-register by April 27.

If you have moved, register again.

U.S. Sets Hiring Goal

The Federal Government has a goal to hire 70,000 disadvantaged youths under the President's Youth Opportunity Campaign this summer. This is an increase of 26,000 over the number hired last year.

Riot Reasons Given

A U.S. Labor Department report says most of the 500 Negro men arrested in last summer's Detroit riot . . . more than 60 per cent . . . blamed the disorder on police treatment, discrimination, lack of jobs or poor living conditions.

Garbage
Rats, Still Problem

Progress in control of rats and collection of garbage in the area were discussed last week by officials from City Hall, the city Health Bureau, the Urban League and the Citizens Improvement Association.

The group heard suggestions by individuals who are trying to solve the persistent problem of rat control in the city. One point was agreed on: Rats and heaps of refuse and garbage taken together are responsible for the refuse that remains and the rats will have the premises.

One suggestion made at the meeting was that the recipients be given a card which would entitle them to free garbage pickup. This was turned down because there are no funds available from welfare for this. Neighborhood Service Center workers expressed their determination to continue working on the problem until solved.

Complaints of abandoned cars and lack of street cleaning in this area were voiced. City officials told the group that they knew the problem and if not removed within 48 hours, the car will be towed away. This cannot be done if the car is on private property.

Household Hints

If you have household hints of your own, write to Mrs. Mary L. Menefee in care of the Oregon Advance Times.

MRS. MARY L. MENEFEE

To quick-freeze frozen foods, place them in a plastic bag, seal it and put into a pan of hot water (nearby). To make an attractive decoration on a "special occasion" cake, cut regular maraschino cherries in flower petals, and dip each cut edge into colored sugar or coconut. Arrange petals on frosted cake in flower shapes (artistic and inexpensive).

If the recipe calls for cake flour and you are without it, follow the stipulated measurement, using regular flour, but exchange 2 tps. of flour for 2 tps. of cornstarch per cup.

If you find fruits and nuts sinking to the bottom of cakes and puddings, try beating the raisins, nuts, etc., in oven before adding to the batter (better luck next time).

most criticized at this time. It is estimated that at least 25 percent of the structures in the buildings and in the land that is zoned for such purposes have been wrecked by fire and are unable to be held on to it. Don't fret, boys, they are planning to present (with State agencies) take it out of them.

There is no doubt that most homes in the area show signs that it is "afterthought" and will be face lifting to bring them up to a reasonable standard. Some will need only minor improvements with attractive features, while others are of great interest. On the other hand, there are some that have long ago reached the stage of "abandonment."

The question in the minds of most property owners is, "What is a fair price for my property?" I can answer that question.

Jeff Grabs Third Spot

Jefferson and Klamath Falls High School basketball teams had been favored to win the finals of the Oregon championship tournament last weekend at the Memorial Coliseum.

Instead, each was upset by Protest Parks.
