FOR MOTHERS

Moms must go through three stages in the eyes of their children. First there is the stage when the mother is regarded as God. Mother and God can do no wrong. Most of us know of a woman having a dish on the table and little boy calling out: "Mom, Mommy's got a burnt silver in her hand. Will you get it out— you kin do it so nice with your pretty little hands. What does it look like now?" Or a small daughter's rapturous: "O Mommy, how can you do so much?"

Then comes the second stage when the children realize that mother is human and makes mistakes. They are inclined to see her in the light of judges and to ask questions of the "Why," "What," and "When." They want to know why some of the dishes are still in the oven and to ask such questions as: "But why can't I stay up late and finish my work? Why can't I have a bowl of ice cream instead of my regular stew?"

And finally the children are practically grown up and come the third stage when their mothers regard them as God. That is the way they regard her as a companion provided she has kept her sense of humor and endured the hard period. If she has been a genuine understanding mother she will realize suddenly that mother is a "lack scout" and that she envies her friends, "Mother's Day" and is indulged with little evidences of her children's affection and love.

The Townsend Plan

At the last meeting of the Mo. S. E. M. South churches have decided to meet on a common course and unite their forces. This is the first in the right direction. It is a sign that rationalists are working more and more that real religion, after all has been the keynote that Culture and Science have been taught and all should come under the one Tent in His Service. We have been asked to have our church see to it that they do not honor elements themselves.

THE MOB PREVAILED

Coinciding with our plans to press last Saturday with the preparation of the June 5th Democratic primary, a prevention of a lynching in Georgia by detaining the mob members and securing the church land, I am happy to relate that I was able to prevent a lynching in Georgia by detaining the mob members and securing the church land.
