ROOSEVELT BOYCOTT SUCCESSFUL

Tuesday, January 14th saw the first day of a successful Black student boycott on Roosevelt High School, after several days of student unrest which ended with school principal, Art Wescott, calling in policemen and matrons to patrol the halls and restrooms.

Roosevelt has an enrollment of about 1900 pupils and less than 80 of those pupils are Blacks.

Upon visiting Roosevelt, the Clarion Defender finds that a mere handful of Blacks were accused of instigating fights with large groups of white students.

There are many problems at Roosevelt High, among them are the racist attitudes of most of that schools white teachers, the inability of the principal to handle minor disturbances, and the few Negro teachers who seem to be afraid of losing their jobs, therefore not standing up in defense of themselves or the Black students in the face of the white racism at Roosevelt.

In the light of what seems to be an administrative conspiracy of sorts at Roosevelt, the Black students are going through with the boycott and resuming classes at the Highland Community Center.

This newspaper contends that Art Westcott should resign as principal of Roosevelt, or be fired.

The school administration would have us believe that the problems at Roosevelt are racial, when the truth is that the school administration and teaching staff themselves are the problem.

Westcott has proven that he is incapable of handling minor disturbances without calling in the police.

We ask, why don’t other schools with similar black and white racial balances have the same problems as Roosevelt? We answer that the problem is not the students but the staff and administration.

Roosevelt’s teachers are obviously unable to relate to black students. In an interview with a white teacher at the school, when asked about black and white student relations the teacher replied, “Something about Negroes affects and scares white kids.”

It is attitudes like this teachers (whose name we will not mention for obvious reasons) which cause misunderstandings between teachers and black student.

The Clarion Defender urges all parents and interested citizens to investigate the Roosevelt crisis and then support the school boycott!
The continuing incidents involving Black and White students and members of the faculty at Roosevelt High School necessitates the urgency of this correspondence, which is being directed to your office at the request of the recently formed Black Coalition. This Coalition is comprised of parents of students actively attending Roosevelt, as well as parents of students presently under expulsion or suspension. It is also comprised of members of organizations, (Social and Service), and the Ministerial Alliance within the Black community, all of which services which directly affects the lives of the Black people of Portland in virtually all aspects, including education.

In restating the urgency of this correspondence, and the representation of the Coalition, it should be clearly understood that this is NOT an attempt to establish policy for the Portland School Administration, but it is an attempt to persuade the Administration to focus attention on the issue at hand, to wit: racial injustices at Roosevelt High School and other institutions of learning throughout the City of Portland.

The incidents which occurred at Roosevelt during the past few days are not by any means isolated or new; they were prevalent in the past, they are prevalent now, and they shall continue to prevail unless those officials, charged with providing an education for the Black youths of Portland, recognize that racism is not just individualized, but institutionalized, as well.

The Black Coalition is cognizant that matters pertaining to educational or disciplinary matters are normally left to the discretion of elected or appointed officials and involvement through means outside of the educational structure is by invitation only.

The method, however, by which the recent incidents at Roosevelt were handled, coupled with the manner in which past incidents at other Portland Public Schools, and in the opinion of the Black coalition, supported in it's entirety by the vast majority of the Black Community, this established pattern has the City of Portland on a "collision course with disaster, with the end result being none other than tragedy."

Attached is a list of grievances and demands that we feel are absolutely imperative to be responded to favorably if we, as Blacks, are to be assured of the due process of an education conducive to ALL America. These demands are Non-negotiable and we appeal for your response by 2:00 P.M. Thursday, January 15, 1970.

Unless your response is forthcoming at the specified time, as well as in the interest of the community we shall have no other alternative than to continue the present boycott of Roosevelt High and initiate community approved plans to extend their action throughout the City of Portland.

In closing, we wish to make it expressly clear that the total resources of members of this committee are available to assist your office in resolving this matter.

Kent Ford, Black revolutionary leader of Portland and prime mover in instumenting the Roosevelt boycott will have a People's Trial Sunday at 2:00 p.m. at the Portland State Educational Center.

Kent is rather happy these days, as his brainchild, a free neighborhood medical clinic staffed by doctors and nurses is opened in honor of one of his fallen comrades, Fred Hampton. Fred Hampton Clinic is located at N. Vancouver and Russell Streets.

On February 2nd, Ford will go on trial at the County Court House. All brothers should show support by appearing with Ken Ford. For information call 234-4915.

POCKET LAWYER OF LEGAL FIRST AID

1. If you are stopped and/or arrested by the police, you may remain silent; you do not have to answer any questions about alleged crimes, you should provide your name and address only if requested (although it is not absolutely clear that you must do so.) But then do so, and at all time remember the fifth amendment.

2. If a police officer is not in uniform, ask him to show his identification. He has no authority over you unless he properly identifies himself. Beware of persons posing as police officers. Always get his badge number and his name.

3. Police have no right to search your car or your home unless they have a search warrant, probable cause or your consent. They may conduct no exploratory search, that is, one for evidence of a crime generally or for evidence of a crime unconnected with the one you are being questioned about. (Thus, a stop for an auto violation does not give the right to search the auto.) You are not required to consent to a search; therefore, you should not consent and should state clearly and unequivocally that you do not consent, in front of witnesses if possible. If you do not consent, the police will have the burden in court of showing probable cause. Arrest may be corrected later.

4. You may not resist arrest forcibly or by going limp, even if you are innocent. To do so is a separate crime of which you can be convicted even if you are acquitted of the original charge. Do not resist under any circumstances.

5. If you are stopped and/or arrested, the police may search you by patting you on the outside of your clothing. You can be stripped of your personal possessions. Do not carry anything that includes the name of your employer or friends.

6. Do not engage in "friendly" conversation with officers on the way to or at the station. Once you are arrested, there is little likelihood that anything you say will get you released.

7. As soon as you have been booked, you have the right to complete at least two phone calls—one to a relative, friend or attorney, the other to a bail bondsman. If you call the Black Panther Party, and the Party will post bail if possible.

8. You must be allowed to hire and see an attorney immediately.

9. You do not have to give any statement to the police, nor do you have to sign any statement you might give them, and therefore you should not sign anything. Take the Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments, because you cannot be forced to testify against yourself.

10. You must be allowed to post bail in most cases, but you must be able to pay the bail bondsman's fee. If you cannot pay the fee, you may ask the judge to release you from custody without bail or to lower your bail, but he does not have to do so.

11. The police must bring you into court or release you within 48 hours after your arrest (unless the time comes on a weekend or a holiday, and they must bring you before a judge the first day court is in session.)

12. If you do not have the money to hire an attorney, immediately ask the police to get you an attorney without charge.

13. If you have the money to hire a private attorney, but do not know of one, call the National Lawyers' Guild or the Multnomah County Bar Association and they will furnish you with the name of an attorney who practices criminal law.

So Go and Fly a Kite

WHEN ADAMS, one of the fathers of the United States police and 60 second President, wrote in his memoirs of his childhood as a happy time when he enjoyed himself with kites, fishing, hunting, wrestling, bowling and arrows. Significantly, he mentioned first of all, kite-flying. Generations of youths have found unsullied challenge, excitement, satisfaction in constructing, building, navigating this toy ancestor of the airplane.

Long before Christopher Columbus sailed the Atlantic in search of Cathay and found a New World, kites were a national pastime in China, where it also had religious, engineering and military import. Military men searched for kites with kites in dragon shapes. There were kites large enough for a passenger. Chinese anticipated jet planes with man-carrying-bikes having crude gondola rocket booster. The "pilots" in which Orléans Charles, Otto Lilienthal, the Wright Brothers first flew, before power and control were provided with engines, were simply box-kites.

Autumn is as good a season as Spring to fly a kite. Here's a kite of unusual design on which all child and adult enthusiasts love to fish in the home workshop as well as out.

A Certain House BUILD

MIND READER?

A certain household com- sate of Grandma, Grandpa, Papa, Mama, Paul, Robert, Uncle Bill, Aunt Jane. Their combined ages are 506 years. When they are arranged in two groups, with Grandma, Papa, Mama and Uncle Bill in one group, and Grandpa, Mama, Robert and Aunt Jane in the other, the total ages of each group in the same. When the two groups are arranged so that all the women are in one, and all the men in the other, the first group (women) total one-eightie less than the other. The men add up to one-seventh more than the women.

So what is the age of each person, remembering that each age is divisible by 7?

A FEW days after young Will arrived at a boys' camp, some of his prankish pals ran off with his fishing tackle and placed it in the foot of a single tall tree that stood on an island in the center of a small lake. Since Will couldn't swim and the water between him and the island was too deep to wade, he sat down on a stump to figure out some other way to recovering his tackle. Having decided the water between the mainland and island was too wide to jump, he looked around for a rope. He found one over twice as long as the distance to the island, but he discovered the rope was too high for him to throw the rope over it. Nevertheless, he got over to the island and back without any other persons helping him.

He had a Dream

WHEREAS, January 15 is the 41st anniversary of the birth of the Civil Rights Leader Martin Luther King, Jr., and

WHEREAS, in the relatively short period that Dr. King preached his message of peaceful demonstration and worked for the rights of all men his achievements were tremendous, and

WHEREAS, his memory will serve to direct the endeavors of all who are working for civil rights for all men;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Terry D. Schrunk, Mayor of Portland, Oregon, the "City of Roses", do hereby proclaim January 15, 1970, as in Portland, and urge the people of this city to pay homage to the memory of this noble man who gave his life in the service of mankind, to which he had so completely dedicated himself.
