PROGRESS

OPPORTUNITIES INDUSTRIALIZATION CENTER

Opportunities Industrialization Center (OIC) is a national effort in helping people to help themselves. Founded by Dr. Leon Sullivan of Philadelphia in 1964, there are more than 95 centers in the continental U.S.A. There also are OIC programs in various stages of development in other parts of the world, in Africa and the Caribbean.

The OIC program features prevocational and vocational training -- coupled together to achieve a singular goal. That goal is to offer training to underemployed, unemployed and other deprived people, with a commitment at the end of the training to place the people in jobs which have some chance for upward mobility.

Portland OIC offers training in the following areas: IBM Key punch, business machines and office practices, bookkeeping, food service, high school equivalency preparation, secretarial skills, industrial electricity, office machine service and repair, and air conditioning and refrigeration services.

Portland OIC is headed by Dr. Bishop McKinney, board chairman, and the Rev. Eugene Boyd Jr., executive director. The central administrative offices are at 4401 N.E. Union.

Where do blacks stand at pol convention?

By FRANK L. STANLEY

By FRANK L. STANLEY

It seems most significant at this point in American political history particularly with regard to the current campaign to elect democratic nominees for the White House, to assess where we are and where we are going. As far as we can decipher, the chief aim of the National Black Political Caucus (Gary) was: "to reach to the uncommitted Black man and woman, to involve them in the black struggle for equal rights and opportunity, to forge unity without uniformity."

Reportedly there were actually two strategies and one non-strategy as of the beginning of this year. The first was preached by Georgia State Rep. Julian Bond and in effect said that blacks in the different states must unite behind favorite son candidates and come to the Miami Democratic Convention armed with the negotiating leverage that would generate. However, this plan ran afoul the new delegate selection reforms of the party which actually work against favorite son candidates.

The second strategy was sponsored by Michigan Rep. John Conyers Jr. and it would have rallied Blacks behind a single national Black candidate. However, this died aborning because Brooklyn's Congresswoman Shirley Chisholm jumped the gun so to speak and announced her candidacy. This was not to Rep. Conyers liking because he was thinking of a male black candidate of the stature of Cleveland's former Mayor Carl Stokes who now is a television commentator and who was not for the Conyers strategy.

The non-strategy was centered in California mainly because black political leaders there saw no future in either of the above strategies because in the winner take-all primary in California there was no hope neither for a favorite son or for a black national candidate. So California blacks, agreed to split up into the various candidate camps, where each of them felt most comfortable and jockeyed for as much influence as possible.

Now to put this in full perspective please remember that in Gary in March primarily black leaders met to nominate a candidate but they did not. Instead a black political agenda emerged calling for a black political movement with the potential of becoming a third party. Worst still the convention not only adjourned without a black candidate but without an agreed-on strategy, either.

What has happened in the meanwhile, Julian Bond, John Conyers, Jesse Jackson and others have all embraced a white candidate George McGovern. Candidate Shirley Chisholm keeps plugging along without any additional congressional associates supporting her to say nothing of black leaders of high ranks across the country.

However, Mrs. Chisholm is showing each day that she does have supporters and that she is not only articulate and forthright but highly qualified.

At this moment it appears that McGovern will get the Democratic nomination. It also appears that he will have the support of America's leading black democratic politicians. To be sure some are remaining loyal to Humphrey mostly because of his past record because actually the erst-while liberal Humphrey has vacillated considerably in his position on busing as well as his latest promulgation that he could run with Wallace, which he later modified.

TO PAY WHITES $5,000 TO LIVE IN ALL BLACK AREA

Residents of interracial neighborhoods from 36 cities met recently in Baltimore to plan practical help for embattled changing neighborhoods faced with problems of exploitation, apathy, and the threat of decay.

The National Neighbors conference responded enthusiastically to a proposal by the staff director of the United States Commission Civil Rights that multiracial living be subsidized by cash payments to families making housing moves that would increase integration.

Delegates to the conference also adopted a self-help program of a nationwide network of task forces to develop information and resources that can help local neighborhoods maintain viable muliracial communities.

Attending the conference from Portland, Oregon, was James O. Brooks a Vice-President of the Irvington Community Association and an Executive Board member of National Neighbors.

John Buggs, director of the federal government's civil rights agency, told the group assembled at Morgan State College June 9, "We're not winning. We'er losing the fight against spreading ghettos," and suggested that a "massive dose of corrective action" is needed to reverse the trend toward an increasingly polarized and segregated society. He proposed that the federal government adopt a plan to pay a white family $1,000 in chash for moving to a neighborhood with a 15 to 20 percent black population and a black family $1,000 for moving to a neighborhood only 8 to 10 percent black. His plan would pay increasing subsidies as the degree of pioneering increased, until a white family moving into an all-black neighborhood would be paid $5,000 and a black family venturing into an all white neighborhood would also get $5,000.

My View

What will the new high school graduates do?

By DR. BENJAMIN E. MAYS

Thousands upon thousands of students have graduated from high school. High school commencements are over. What percentage of high school graduates will go to college this September no one knows. It is definite that a reasonable number will go to college in preparation for a degree to teach, to do research, to work in industry, government or to prepare themselves to enter a professional school such as law, medicine, ministry or to complete their work in some technical school to become engineers, etc.

All of this is wonderful and fine and those who look forward to a professional career beyond college will in all probability land on their feet.

The great question is what will those do who do not go on to college? In fact, it is not necessary for every person to receive a college education or a university degree, but it is necessary for every person to have a skill which will enable him to take care of his family and do something that the community needs to have done. It is necessary for a high school graduate to be able to get a job.

It is the hope that high school graduates who do not go to college will go to an area technical school or a terminal junior college which will enable the non-college graduate to learn a skill in nursing, designing, building, painting, architecture, electricity, plumbing, repairing automobiles or some trade that will enable him or her to make a respectable living and contribute something to the well being of the community.

It is too bad that we live in a society where more prestige is placed on the white collar than on the blue collar worker or on the man who works in overall. I am quite sure that a skilled electrician or a skilled plumber makes more money than the average public school teacher in the United States and many of them make more than college professors.

Prestige should go with any trade or profession in which one does well. A college or university degree may not be necessary, but it is necessary that one possesses a skill in some art, some work that will make him respectable to himself and to the people.

Really, it does not matter that Joe Louis did not go to college. It did not matter that Joe Louis did not handle the King's English very well, but it matters much that Joe Louis became the heavy weight champion of the world and that his name will go down in boxing history as one of the greatest fighters.

It does not matter that Willie Mays or Hank Aaron are not college graduates. Both of them are at the top of their profession. This should be the aim and desire of every man, whether he goes to college or not — to do something worthwhile and do it well. Degrees may not be important but skills are.

CONGRESS OF AFRICAN PEOPLES

In working toward realization of the Nation Time theme several projects were undertaken. Among them was the strengthening of unity between Africans in Africa and Africans in America by establishing formal and informal relations with all African nations. A national boycott of Portuguese products is still in effect because of their aggressions and colonialist policies in Africa. Closer to home, the National Black Political Convention was another workable concept that emerged from that first conference.

The Congress established itself on the International scene by establishing the first Black non Government agency in the United Nations. The Executive Committee of the Congress was invited to Tanzania by President Julius Nyere, to attend their tenth anniversary celebration in December of 1971.

As a follow up to Atlanta 1970, in 1971 regional conferences were held in NewArk, New Jersey, Kansas City, Missouri, and in San Diego, Ca. The purpose of these regional sessions was to bring participants together to analyze and discuss how the implementation of Atlanta's ideas is progressing.

For further information contact the Congress of African Peoples at 4183 Market St., San Diego, Ca., 92102, or phone (714) 263-3139.

Blacks clinch win for McGovern

(Special To The Daily Defender)
WASHINGTON, D.C. Senator George McGovern clinched the Democratic nomination for President Wednesday in an off-the-record meeting with key members of the Congressional Black Caucus, the Daily Defender learned Thursday. Rep. Louis Stokes, chairman of the Caucus, Rep. William Clay of St. Louis and Rep. Walter Fauntroy of D. C. led the discussions at the meeting.

Needing only a 105 delegates to reach the 1,509 votes required for nomination, Sen. McGovern was assured of the support of more than 125 black delegates, most of whom were uncommitted, who have been mobilized by the Black Caucus leaders. The assurance came after Sen. McGovern agreed to support and work for the black agenda which called for action on basic improvements of the black condition.

A formal announcement of the results of the meeting with Sen. McGovern is expected to be made by the Congressional Black Caucus within next two or three days.

The meeting with the senator also involved discussions of how best to embark on a massive campaign to register blacks in the North and the South and to get out a full black vote on election day.

One suggestion included the creation of a black advisory committee to the Senator on campaign organization and structure. Over a million new black voters will be sought in the registration campaign to boost the national total of black votes close to the 9-million mark.

In addition to the efforts of the Congressional Black Caucus, Sen. McGovern can count on support from many nationally known black leaders, some of whom have already campaigned for him in the primaries. These leaders include: Mrs. Coretta King, State Rep. Julian Bond, the Rev. Jesse Jackson and a number of non-political black celebrities.

However, Rep. Dan Rostenkowski (D., Ill.) said in an interview here Wednesday that he would place the odds now at "about 5 to 1" against McGovern defeating President Nixon in Illinois.

"And I think he (McGovern) could also cost us control of the House and the Senate," Rostenkowski added. "It could be a shellacking like we've never seen before."

Rostenkowski's statement seemed to jeopardize McGovern's chances of winning over the bloc of 95 uncommitted delegates from Illinois on the first bloc ballot.

Meanwhile, Angelo Geocaris, Illinois campaign manager for Sen. Edmund S. Muskie's drive for the Democratic presidential nomination, said Thursday that "between 15 and 45" of the 58 Illinois delegates pledged to Muskie might switch to McGovern, if they were freed to do so.

BROADCASTING SYSTEM RECEPTION- Part of the Mutual

2,500 BLACKS TURN OUT TO SUPPORT RE-ELECTION OF THE PRESIDENT

Twenty-five hundred blacks have turned out at a $100-a-plate dinner to support the re-election of the President. The Washington, D.C. dinner—hailed by White House Assistant Communications Director Stan Scott as "the first national black fund-raising dinner ever held for a President or Presidential candidate"—was sponsored by the Black Committee for the Re-Election of the President.

Robert Blackwell, black Republican Mayor of Highland Park, Michigan, who served as Master of Ceremonies, set the tone for the evening in his opening remarks:

"This is the message that we must carry back to our black brothers and sisters—that we no longer can be taken for granted by any one party, that partisan loyalty does not in fact represent black political power."

Democrats Behind Times

Floyd McKissick, former director of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), told the audience: "I don't believe you can get from the Democratic Party what you can get from the Republican Party." McKissick said that he felt black people ought to have the right to make the kind of decisions they want concerning themselves and about themselves and he doesn't believe the Democrats understand that language "because they are talking the language of the 1950's and the 1960's." The black civil rights leader said that within a two-party system it's "stupid" for all blacks to be in just one party.

"A lot of people are going to be surprised this year," declared Paul R. Jones, Executive Director of the Black Committee for the Re-Election of the President. "The President only received 12 percent of the Black vote in 1968, but he's going to do much, much better this time...because he's earned it."

Morehouse Glee club tours Africa

The Morehouse College Glee Club of Atlanta, Ga., swept through a concert tour of Africa last month on a wave of applause.

The 44-man student choir, traveling under the auspices of the State Dept.'s Cultural Presentations Program, earned the traditional African ovation—a thundering combination of foot-stamping and hand-clapping—from audiences everywhere. On tour for one month, the Glee Club performed in Senegal, Ghana, Nigeria, Uganda, and Ethiopia.

In some 34 appearances, including sixteen 90-minute concerts and four television broadcasts, the audience reaction was instant rapport with "our brothers from across the Atlantic." In Kampala, Uganda, the choristers' performance before a standing-room-only crowd was heralded as "one of the best musical presentations ever held in this country." And in Dakar, Senegal, the Glee Club sang four encores before the audience allowed them to leave the stage.

From Senegal to Ethiopia the choir, under the direction of Dr. Wendall Whalum, charmed audiences with its collection of gospel songs and Afro-American spirituals. At the National Cultural Centre in Kumasi, Ghana, the singers surprised the audience when they sang the Ghanaian farewell song "Nkradi" in Twi, the native language of the country's second largest city. While on tour, the group learned several new African songs to add to its repertoire.

One of the group's most popular selections, "Ugly Woman," always brought cheers and laughter from the crowd as the soloist explained the reasons why "a man should always marry a woman uglier than him."

WITHIN THE BLACK LINE

By CORA CROSBY

SOCIAL

NEWS

BY: ANNA MORRISON

Black mothers, the time has come for us to do more than a little bit of soul-searching. Down through the generations, whether we want to admit it or not, we have not carried the torch of our humanity as high as we might have. It has been said, "...black people have survived because of the black woman..."

Trees survive, old things survive; --and black people? We have endured, because we learn to hate, fear and fight one another. We have not defined --for ourselves and for our children-- the values, our own human values, that will insure our human survival.

All around us are warnings of the danger of becoming overly concerned with appearances, and the sole preoccupation of acquiring possessions. The dangers within the black line of exclusion are as great as the dangers beyond. Our youth see this. But very few of us heed the significance of the many signs.

We ignore the signs because self-denial blinds us. And when we are confronted by our children --and by the demands of human survival-- we become angry and ultra-critical of ourselves and of one another. It is time we learned that anger and negative criticism, turned inward, are self-defeating: they rob us of initiative, and keep us in a state of frustrated helplessness; in other words: we place ourselves in limbo.

Self-hatred alienates us one from the other, and each of us is left alone to vegetate her way into old age --and the grave. And so, engulfed by inertia and willfully allowing our brains and spirit to atrophy we deny our common humanity and thwart any chance at meaningful communication with our families and neighbors.

Our young people turn to us for love and guidance. They too often encounter indifference and hate. And the escape the reality of being rejected, they turn from us. Is it any wonder?

And so, the vicious cycle is not broken and our youth become the cardboard people their mother are: one-dimension, existing like subhumans, without intellect or spirit.

We can no longer procrastinate, or pass the buck. Today we must begin vigorous, concerted actions to change our outlook, to reach our hand and unite for our common interest and make a reaffirmation to life and human dignity.

THE LINE OF EXCLUSION

Today, as always, the progress of African Americans --the aspirations of a people who have long been pushed aside and told to "wait"--is viewed with hostility. From within and from without, the line of exclusion obstruct the paths leading to a better life, --ever curving, delineating and negating our every effort.

Again, we find "law and order" is substituted for Justice; and the line becomes the wall that separates the "deserving" from the "undeserving" --based on what criteria?

Too often our youth are denied their right to self-knowledge by their own teachers. These same teachers share the sequestered life, but they mistake because their judgment is infected with the corrosive acid of self-hatred. They are the people whose disinterested, warped way of think is the beginning of the destruction of a black child's mind --begun before he can become aware. They in their willful blindness impart to the black child no semblance of the truth: that he is a human being.

Many of our young people are already so crippled (emotionally) that it is unlikely that will advance. For they are faced with the encouraging support they need. Their human rights, privileges and liberties are minimal. If, per chance, they dare question the reasons why, they are immediately branded as "hoodlums", "criminals" and etc.

The situation is tragic, for the environment in which we live is a prison, denying us all the fight to see the sun and walk amid the flowers that abound in the fields beyond.

In their struggle for recognition as human beings on the basis of merit, quality of distinction, who is there to guide and encourage them? Where, within the line of exclusion, will they find the knowledge needed to help them discover the ultimate meaning of human life? To whom can they turn, if not to their own adults?

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON MEDICAL SCHOOL

Blurry vision, accompanied by dark spots with a partial veil shrouding the eye, sporadic at first but returning with increasing frequency--these are typical symptoms experienced by sufferers of many advanced vascular eye afflictions.

Each time the blood vessels in the retina begin to leak or hemorrhage the affected individual is drawn closer to the permanent veil, blindness. Now in many cases, treatment with the argon laser at the University of Oregon Medical School can arrest deteriorating vision and in some cases improve it.

The only machine of its kind in Oregon, the $33,000 argon laser photocoagulator is located in the Medical School's ophthalmology department. The laser consists of electrically stimulated gas molecules which emit a beam of energized blue-green light one million times more intense than light of the same color released for the sun.

In a manner similar to a cauterizer, the laser can weld rips and tears in the retinal tissue or destroy abnormal blood vessels in the back of the eye.

According to Dr. Sam L. Meyer, associate professor of ophthalmology, "the laser can be concentrated into a beam size of 50 microns, " (approximately the size of the point on a needle). The minuteness of the ray allows exact treatment of the precise area involved with only minimal damage to surrounding tissue. Since the involved blood vessels often are located in or near the macula (a part of the retina responsible for vision) it is important to destroy only the afflicted area.

Dr. Meyer explained that over 100 patients, many of them afflicted with the once incurable diabetic retinopathy, have received laser treatment at the UOMS. He expressed the importance of this therapy because of the rapidly rising diabetic population. "It is estimated six percent of the population are diabetic with the total increasing five percent a year, he said. By the time a person has had diabetes for 20 years, he has a 75 percent chance of developing retinopathy.

"The laser treatment is done on an outpatient basis, relieving the patient of the high costs of hospitalization and freeing much needed hospital beds and personnel," said Dr. Meyer.

The Machine was purchased by two faculty members in the ophthalmology department because state funds were not available. To defer the cost of the machine and maintenance, patients receiving treatment with the laser are billed for the services.

Patients treated with the laser are usually referred to the Medical School Physicians by their ophthalmologists but if the doctor has completed special training on the use of the laser at the Palo Alto Medical Clinic in California, he may treat his patients with the machine at the School.

PACIFIC NORTHWEST BELL

In its efforts to continually cut costs caused by inflation and other factors, Pacific Northwest Bell is starting a new program in the Portland metropolitan area that could result in annual savings of $1 million.

That's the amount the company estimates it costs to handle needless calls to its Directory Assistance operators from the Portland area.

"On an average business day," says E. L. Pfeifer, PNB Portland division manager, "we handle about 81,000 requests from our customers for phone numbers.

"And of that total," Pfeifer continued, "we estimate that two thirds of the numbers are listed in current directories."

The company calculates its costs---basically operator wages---to handle these "needless" calls at about $1 million.

The figures are extracted from overall Oregon costs to PNB on its Directory Assistance service that are discussed in a bill insert being sent to Portland area customers over a month's time starting June 28. Accompanying the bill insert is a list of Portland telephone numbers that are frequently requested from Directory Assistance operators. Also included in the list are references to pages in the directories where numbers for certain businesses and organizations can be found.

The company is asking its customers to stick the list to the first pages of their directories and "start your own list of favorite stores and services on the same page."

Portland represents about half the volume of calls to Directory Assistance operators in Oregon, Pfeifer points out.

"And for that reason," he said, "we are trying this approach to cost cutting here first.

"At the same time," he concluded, "we realized that in many instances, our customers have no alternative to calling our operators for assistance in getting a new number, an out-of-town number, or for other service reasons.

"We're anxious to see what the results of this test will be over an extended period of time. Hopefully it will help us cut back on our expenses while continuing to provide the required service to our customers."

Girl Scouts camp opens

Paralytic polio could strike Oregon children in large numbers this summer because only 50 per cent of them are adequately immunized against the crippling disease. Dr. Edward Press, Oregon State public health officer, has warned.

Dr. Press cited recent surveys of first graders in 10 Oregon counties, including Multnomah and Washington, which showed an average immunity level against polio of 50 per cent, with a high of 64 per cent and a low of 23 per cent.

"It's alarming to think one-half of our children aren't safe from polio in an age where the disease can be prevented by a few feedings of oral vaccine," Dr. Press said. "Apparently, many parents have forgotten the years before polio vaccine was developed when the disease killed and crippled thousands of children during epidemics."

The three resident camps of Columbia River Girl Scout Council have spaces available at each of the camps for girls of all ages, according to spokesman Grace Raymore. Membership in the Girl Scout is not a requirement.

The camps opened June 25 and continue through Aug. 19. Sessions are for one week, ten days and two weeks.

Camp Kiwanilong is a multi-purpose camp on the coast, near Fort Stevens. A wide variety of program opportunities include canoeing, sailing, water ballet, beachcombing, and exploration along the Pacific ocean beaches, as well as other outdoor activities.

MORSE CHAIRS REGIONAL PLATFORM HEARINGS

San Francisco--Former Senator Wayne Morse served as co-chairman of the western regional hearings of the Democratic Platform Committee in San Francisco Monday. Chairing the afternoon and evening hearings, Morse heard a total of 57 witnesses who made a wide range of proposals about subject matter to be included in the Democratic party's platform.

The San Francisco hearings were the fourth in a series of fifteen regional hearings to be held prior to June 23 when the full platform committee will meet in Washington D.C. to prepare the Democratic Platform. Morse who is one of two Oregon delegates to the National Platform Committee will be participating in the Washington meetings. These regional hearings are part of the party reform measures initiated by the McGovern Commission and are intended to provide a forum for all people to voice their concerns.

Morse, the Democratic candidate for the United States Senate, heard a wide range of proposals that dealt with zero population growth, land reform, aid to Indians, Northern Irish, Northern Irish, Arabs, and Chicanos and election reforms. One witness representing the musicians union suggested that $200 million be appropriated for the national indowment of the fine arts.

Wilson Riles
 lays it on the line

By LOUIS MARTIN

Wilson Riles, who is the elected superintendent of public instruction for the state of California, was the main speaker at the 2d Annual Black Congressional Caucus dinner in Washington last week. A tall, handsome, black man, with the physique of a football player, Riles is nationally acclaimed as a top authority on the public school in America.

His election victory over Max Rafferty, a well known reactionary in California, was an upset. Few believed he had a chance because of his liberal views and his black skin. The people however, listened to him and that was all he needed to win their support.

At the Caucus dinner Riles made an impassioned appeal for the support and the strengthening of the public school system. He called for support from the legislators, the courts, the taxpayers and especially the parents of black children.

He said "to be ignorant and free" is a condition that "never was and never will be."

He ridiculed the myth that slogans, fist-waving and all the symbolic gesturing and posturing of a people can lead to liberation in the world today. Riles said he understood and was sympathetic to all the new manifestations of the new black awareness. He was not opposed to adding Swahili to the curriculum as some black educators advocate.

On the latter point, however, he said that if a black man got a job as a commercial airline pilot, he hoped that he would be able to communicate clearly in standard English. If he happened to be fluent only in Swahili, he would have one hell of a time communicating with airport tower in case of an emergency.

Riles made it clear that blacks must be able to function effectively in the modern world where technological and scientific miracles are constantly forcing basic social changes. His definition of education was much broader than the popular notion of absorbing and storing in the mind a multitude of facts. To him a good student was not merely a data bank. He must know how and where to get the facts and know how to relate them to one another. He must be able to think.

I was struck by the emphasis Riles placed on economics and the responsibility of parents in the educational process. In this connection he pointed out that highest elementary school test scores in the country were found in a middle class, mixed area called Baldwin Hills or the "golden ghetto" in Los Angeles. The worst test scores are found in white Appalachia.

He said wealthy and middle class parents, irrespective of race, demand more for their children and expect more from their children. Economics seems more important than race in this process. Poverty and isolation are evils which always create the psychological conditions that favor failure.

Many of the points made by the California educator have been made before. Nevertheless, he brought a specific challenge to the black leadership at the dinner that I believe was more significant than most of us appreciate. There is far more talk of liberation and freedom than there is of economics and education. There seems to be a tendency to talk and dream, as the minister might say, of the wonders of heaven and there is too little talk or concern about what is necessary to get there.

Parenthood is seldom a topic of much discussion. Nevertheless, those of us who bring children into the world automatically assume some very serious responsibilities. Parental delinquency as well as juvenile delinquency warrant our concern.

THE FOREMOST FUNCTION OF THE CLARION DEFENDER IS TO SERVE THE BEST INTERESTS OF THE BLACK COMMUNITY. WE ARE AN "INVOLVED" NEWSPAPER. WE TAKE A STAND ON ISSUES -- SOMETIMES WE STEP ON A FEW TOES. BUT IN THE FINAL ANALYSIS, ISN'T THAT WHAT IT'S ALL ABOUT? BRUISED TOES OFTEN ACTIVATE SLUGGISH THINKING ATTITUDES. BETTER A DISGRUNTLED READER THAN AN APATHETIC ONE!

NEWSPAPERING IS A TOUGH, OFTEN THANKLESS JOB, WITH MINIMAL FINANCIAL RETURNS. ANY NEWSPAPER MAN WORTH HIS SALT HAS LONG SINCE DISCARDED ANY NOTION OF THE "FAST BUCK OF "BIG DOLLAR". OF COURSE, HE HAS TO MAKE A LIVING, BUT THE UNDERLYING CURRENT OF MOTIVATION IS SERVICE TO HIS READERS.

WE DO NOT PRINT THE CLARION DEFENDER TO IMPRESS THE WHITES WITH OUR PSEUDO-SOPHISTICATED APPROACH. WE ARE NOT OUT TO INGRATULATE OURSELVES WITH THE SO-CALLED "POWERS THAT BE". WE LEAVE "OBJECTIVITY" TO THE FENCE-RIDERS. FOR US, THERE IS NO TRICKY NEUTRAL GROUND. WE HAVE OPINIONS AND WE VOICE THEM. WE ARE PRO-HUMANITY; BLACK, WHITE, YELLOW, RED. WE ARE ANTI-PHONINESS. IF WE SMELL A RAT, WE SOUND THE ALARM TO ALERT THE COMMUNITY. WE ARE ON THE SIDE OF JUSTICE, EQUALITY AND FREEDOM.

IN THEORY, TRUTH IS BEAUTIFUL. IN REALITY, TRUTH IS OFTEN HARSH AND UNPLEASANT. BUT NO AMOUNT OF "UNDER THE RUG" SWEEPING CAN HIDE THE TRUTH FOR LONG. THE BUMP GROWS LARGER AND LARGER UNTIL IT TRIPS US UP. BETTER TO KEEP THE FLOORS CLEAN AND THE TRUTH IS OPEN VIEW FOR ALL TO EXAMINE.

WE DO NOT TRY TO IMPOSE OUR VIEWS ON OTHERS. WE STATE THE FACTS; WE GIVE OUR OPINIONS; WE REACH OUR CONCLUSION. THE NATURAL SEQUENCE OF THE NEWSPAPER-READER EXPERIENCE IS THAT YOU, THE READER, REVIEW THE FACTS, FORM YOUR OPINIONS, REACH YOUR CONCLUSIONS. IF OUR VIEWS COINCIDE... BEAUTIFUL! IF NOT, THAT IS YOUR HUMAN RIGHT. EITHER WAY, THE MERE FACT THAT YOU HAVE REACTED IS HEADY WINE. FOR IT MEANS THAT WE HAVE DONE OUR JOB WELL!

THE CLARION DEFENDER IS NOT A CONTROLLED NEWSPAPER. IT IS YOUR NEWSPAPER.

Lions Sign Stoudamire

Charles Stoudamire, Portland State University's outstanding football and basketball athlete, has signed his 1972 National Football League contract with the Detroit Lions.

The 21-year-old former Washington high school of Portland all-state performer received a "good bonus," but terms of the contract were not revealed. Stoudamire will report to the Lions' rookie camp on July 11 as a wide receiver. He was Detroit's fourth pick in last winter's collegiate draft, taken in the seventh round.

The 6-2, 195-pounder caught 78 passes for 886 yards and five touchdowns during three varsity seasons,

SPORTS

Black driver Benny Scott heads for Watkins Glen, N.Y. in the Harbor Fuel McLaren after learning plenty in the first two L&M Grands Prix. Scott, representing Vanguard Racing, is the focus of a long-range effort to train black mechanics and drivers in racing. The big aim is to put Scott in the Indianapolis 500. This year's L&M Championship is Scott's first big car ride and he is steadily building confidence and experience.

BENNY SCOTT'S VANGUARD McLAREN M10B

With the fastest 10 cars qualifying within a two-second spread and the old Formuls 5000 lap record broken by three miles per hour at the last race in the series, the L&M Continental 5000 Championship came to Watkins Glen for the first time -- and for a big, $60,000 guarantee.

The field of open-wheeled, single-seaters regularly attracted to this year's L&M Championship has been augmented considerably for the opening of Watkins Glen's Silver Anniversary season. International stars Brian Redman, Derek Bell and Jackie Oliver -- all from England -- have joined the hot group of regulars led by Graham McRe, David Hobbs, Sam Posey, George Follmer, Brett Lunger, Lothar Motschenbacher and Keven Barlett. All these drivers are among the 42 firm F. 5000 entries received at Watkins Glen through June 12.

The opening 1972 race in the L&M Championship actually saw the top 20 cars qualify within a five-second spread on lap times at Laguna Seca, California. At Edmonton in Canada for the second race, the top 20 qualified within a 5.5-second margin. Watkins Glen is the third race.

New Zealander Graham McRae won the $40,00 Laguna Seca race in the STP and set a new record, F. 5000 lap speed of 110.26 mph. The old record was set by 1971 champion Hobbs at 108.9 mph in last year's race.

barbeques and similar events - and visits from the Bureau's "Truckin'" project; a truckload of inflatable, do-it-yourself playthings. For more information contact park personnel at the park in your area.
