NLRC ASSERTS ILLEGAL LABOR CONTRACT MADE WITH A.F. L. UNIONS

Washington, D.C. (AP) - The National Labor Relations Board has charged A. F. L. unions with illegal labor contracts. The charge was made by the board after an investigation

"When we go all right is a steady diet during a building period. We have been working here on the job for many years, but we do not know the hours. We work when we have work and when we don't have work."

"The conditions are so bad that employees are afraid to come to work. They are afraid to come to work because of the hours and the conditions."

"The employees are not given proper rest periods and are not given proper meals.

"We are asking the cooperation of all organization leaders, especially the heads of the various organizations, to send these greetings to the members and friends of the Northwest Enterprise. Thousands of copies will be printed, and will go into every home in State and Territory. This will be the largest and most interesting edition ever published in the Northwest, says J.T. McNeely, Advertising and Sales Special Representative. Just like your holiday greetings in this edition — you have to know — all orders must be in the Enterprise office on Tuesday, December 22, 1942.

Advertising Rates Upon Application

A. T. McCollum, Advertising Representatives

This country has now more "depe" users than ever before in its history. Many different varieties of that soul-destructing drug, some stimulating, others satisfying and last, but not least, brutalizing. The last enjoyment, the "satisfaction" of "high-up men," beggars, gaunters, capitos! They do their disablistical, dambible deeds with a smile. Incurable addicts, and few are curable, should be exterminated.

We have often commented upon the efficacy of the "rod" when properly applied. All nations, in all ages, have united its advantages. The United States calls it a summons, but it certainly cannot be considered in the vast, yearly, daily inflicted and inflicted with its multitude of criminals. Dalney.

NEGROES AND THE LAW

The New York Times has noted Negro churches, Negro unions, and the NAACP have all been active in the protest against the New Deal. Negro churches have sent resolutions to President Roosevelt expressing their desire for a more inclusive policy. The NAACP has filed a lawsuit against the New Deal program, claiming that it discriminated against Negroes. The New Deal has been accused of not providing enough jobs for Negroes, and of not offering enough training for them. The New Deal has also been criticized for not providing enough housing for Negroes, and for not providing enough education for them. The New Deal has also been criticized for not providing enough health care for Negroes, and for not providing enough social security for them. The New Deal has also been criticized for not providing enough retirement for Negroes, and for not providing enough old age assistance for them. The New Deal has also been criticized for not providing enough unemployment compensation for Negroes, and for not providing enough unemployment assistance for them. The New Deal has also been criticized for not providing enough welfare for Negroes, and for not providing enough public assistance for them.
