Transportation Problems Will Be Aired

"Here you have a job because of transportation problems," according to Larry Lakey, 4515 N. Borthwick Street, Chairman of the Employment and Economic Development Committee, whose board will hold a public hearing so that any resident who has had a transportation problem will have the chance to tell us about it. We need to plan for improvements in getting residents to their jobs and we can't do that if we don't have additional information about the problems and how to solve the problems, too," Lakey told the Advance.

Wednesday, July 17, at 7:30 p.m., Lakey is inviting residents to tell us about their transportation problems. The meeting will be held in the Lane College building on Borthwick Street, just north of Klimgate.

People who can't come to the meeting are urged to drop by to the new Model Cities Information Center, 10 N.E. Graham Street and tell Center staff what their problems and transportation needs are. The appeal to residents to tell us about their transportation problems is the result of a proposal made by a speaker at the June 25th meeting, Mrs. Ora L. Nunley, 2423 N.E. Alberta, Portland, Oregon. Nunley is a member of the Employment and Economic Development Committee.

"We need to plan for improvements in getting people to where the jobs are," Nunley said. "The most important thing about the Model Cities program is to take the needs of the residents and all people in the area have been urged to take part in the committees which are planning programs for the future. However, for those who are not interested in those committees, there are other ways to help, such as going to the meetings of the board which are held by the Employment Committee.

Proposals that will affect everyone in the area are starting to come out of committees and are included at meetings by residents to be heard by the people who will be met. Along under-the-counter proposals will be voicing from subcommittees headed by Harvey Rice (Subcommittee on Location and Transport) and Jim Stevens (Subcommittee on Transportation) will be discussed at regular meetings of the Committee to which the public is invited.

The Committee meets regularly on Wednesday nights in Room 203, Cascade College (Borthwick Street entrance). The Secretary of the Committee is Mrs. Elisabeth Mehl, 922 N.E. Garfield Street.

Albina Corporation Formed

By George Christen

A corporation is a business. The American Unity Enterprises, Inc., is a reality. It was established by a devoted few in the Albina area with visions of what the government is spending millions of dollars in the community of Urban Renewal and Model Cities programs; also recognizing that the actual work will be done by contractors.

"There will be little of the work required in the community will so contract out," this is an idea that has been passed on to her by her constituent, Mrs. J. Elaine, a board member of the Albina Community, Inc.

"The Albinan community has a group of young adults who are interested in catering to the needs of young adults between the ages of 18 and 25. Something is being done but we can't call it an adult center," said the group leader for the group.

"We will get together and share the rent of the city and the state of Oregon and we will be able to do it by using our own resources," said the group leader for the group. "They can also get together and share the rent of the city and the state of Oregon and we will be able to do it by using our own resources," said the group leader for the group.

No Black Auto Repairman

Why No Black Auto Repairman In Portland's Auto Shops? A visit to these establishments in the black portion of Portland will reveal the existence of two black businesses. In the immediate black community and the black overall, the only black person one can see in these establishments are "janitors, car washers and one salesmen." There are many other black businesses in the backwoods of Mississippi.

The Right to Arm

RIGHT TO KEEP AND BEAR ARM

"The right provided is really the right of a state to maintain an armed militia, or national guard, as a part of the state's defense against domestic violence. The eighteenth century Congress feared that Congress might, by passing a law, prohibit the states from arming their citizens, which the Delta Alpha and the Delta Upsilon fraternities of kappa Alpha Pi fraternity pooled about 300 of their young men to register for a summer camp in the "Black and White," or the special event was hosted on July 3 at the Portland Public Library.

They are at most able to get a job, go to war and go to jail is the same way as they are in the military. Not everyone turns 21 or older. They are all over the world, and they are always turned 21 or older. But, they are there. Some are afraid to tell that the truth.

"WHAT HAPPENING, WHY ARE PEOPLE BEING CRUDE?"

I read an article in the paper the other day, and I thought I would tell the people of Portland my thoughts.

The article was about the protest march that is taking place in the community which is evidenced by boarded replacing glass windows.

No Black Auto Repairman

It would seem that these businesses would improve if the all the people participate in the business action and over that of just spending their money.

It would appear to be good business practice to understand the indigenous people as the backbone of our economy. This is especially true in the area of black business located in the area.

Can the lack of giving the residents a share of the business action be one reason for the panic that is taking place in the community which is evidenced by boarded replacing glass windows?

TV Channels 7 and 10 Present "Don't Back Down"

A young Toronto doctor serves in a Nigerian mission hospital in a challenge to his medical training in NIT's presentation of "You Don't Back Down." The program will be repeated Wednesday, July 17 at 6:15 on Channel 7 and 16 at 5 p.m. on Channels 7 and 10.

Problems were encountered with the state-owned channels.

Dr. Alex McMahon, straight from a Canadian medical school, chose Nigeria for his career because he felt the specialization of Canadian medicine prevented any real test of his general abilities.

Wise Employment Practice Pays Off

by George Christian

The recent march of the poor made many people stop and think and take a second look at their living practices and their treatment of the poor and the poor black in particular. There are, however, who had no such second thoughts and no need for guilt complexes as far as their living practices are concerned. One such is David Cohn of Cohn Bros. Furniture Co.

In a recent interview with Mr. Cohn, I found out that he had employed Negroes for many years and has hired them according to their abilities.

One of his top salesmen is John Williams, a Negro. Williams rents all customers with a courteous smile, a good attitude and is received much in the same way.

Also with Cohn Bros., is George Christian and Lowell Money in the rug department. These two gentlemen have been with Cohn Bros. for years and are experts in sewing and installing fine carpeting. They say they have no problems and are also received well when sent on a job. Cohn Bros. feels that to lose any of these men would be a great loss for the company.

"It would appear to me that other companies might take a lesson from these wise employment practices," Cohn said.

A challenging career long and hard work has been the motto of the Williams family, which has been in the furniture business for over five years. The family has always been able to keep the business running smoothly, and all the members of the family have been involved in the business.

Profile of Willie Stoudamire

by Ron Leverett

In interviewing Willie Stoudamire, one of the best all-around athletes Portland fans have ever witnessed, I was very impressed with the mature outlook he has on life. After the interview, I came away feeling very lucky to have the opportunity to explore how he got interested in athletics early in life, his uneventful experiences and ambitions he hopes to pursue.

Prior to the interview, it was rumored — primarily by white coaches — that Willie doesn't like for people to become very close to him. Thus, there were some reservations.

In tracing his illustrious career, one must go back to the time when Willie was in the third grade at Elliot. Here he received his inspiration from the late Negro teacher, John Daneka, to pursue sports as well as a college degree, which he hopes to acquire in Business Administration.

During his grade school basketball, he had the fortune of playing on a seventh and eighth grade basketball championship teams. The names of some of the players who performed were Ed Thompson, Ken Warren, Russ Payne, Dan Bell and his brother, Charles.

Cardell, Willie's older brother, was the deciding factor for him to perform at Washington rather than Jefferson High School. Upon his arrival on the high school campus, Willie responded as a typical outstanding grade school athlete.

He speaks very bitterly on how he felt he was being used at Washington. This came to light at the school's athletic banquet when the most outstanding senior athlete is given a plaque or trophy.

Willie was passed over because he had the wrong attitude. In pursuing this statement, I asked if he thought white coaches understood the black athlete. To justify his statement, he refers to his junior year when the Negro coach, Jimmy Winters, was at Washington. When a personal problem would arise between him and the coach, he would talk to Jim. Jim would then consult the coach to rectify the incident.

During his basketball career, Willie feels he had two memorable moments — the first, to show people he was better than Mike Keck; secondly, to prove what he felt was the most obvious. He was the mostly the coaches didn't understand the black athlete. In pursuing this statement, he refers to his junior year when the Negro coach, Jimmy Winters, was at Washington. When a personal problem would arise between him and the coach, he would talk to Jim. Jim would then consult the coach to rectify the incident.

Willie comes from a large family consisting of four sisters, two brothers and a sister. His hero idols are Elgin Baylor and Mike Keck.

Willie's excitement was aroused. "It is located on the finest camps in the area. Fredrick Smith will be supervising the first group to go. Scouts have used the scouting opportunity to gain experience for two years, but still don't have the joy of a canoeing, archery, rifle practice, arts and crafts, plus the opportunity to work at 350 merit badges. The scouts will return home on Saturday, July 13, at 5 p.m.

Training Classes End July 25

For over five years, the State of Oregon Bureau of Labor has sponsored a program of job information and education. The program was called Creative Job Search Technique (CJST). The method was developed by Ray Zigler and was to become so effective a method of training the unemployed and underemployed that its fame spread to colleges and universities all over the country. This method also spread to foreign countries as an accepted and effective method of rehabilitating the unemployed.

This same method has been used for over a year at the Albina Neighborhood Service Center every Thursday evening under the direction of Donna Gaddis. The center has helped many Albina residents not only find jobs but to become stronger in many cases.

The classes will not be held any longer at the Service Center and will be cancelled with the last Thursday meeting in July.

We wish to thank Mr. Ray Zigler for his training of the counselors, George Christian and Clifton Jenkins, and also thanks to Highland Center and its director, Roselle Gilmore, for the help and courtesy extended during the operation of the classes.

Funds Donated to Handicapped Children

Two community service organizations have donated funds to the Portland Public Schools to be used to purchase special typewriters needed in teaching materials for visually handicapped children. Dr. Edgar Taylor, Director of Special Education in Portland, announced Monday.

The Birth Israel Temple Sisterhood donated $505 for the purchase of an IBM electric typewriter, and the Columbia Liners Club Auxiliary made a gift to the schools of $185 to be used to buy a Smith-Corona typewriter.

Both machines type in the large print size needed by children with visual handicaps.

Tom Wilson Speaks At Affair

by Joe Hoffman, Secretary Human Rights Council
The storm of the afternoon of June 28 almost cancelled out the People’s Problems Hearing, sponsored by the Human Rights Council, held Friday, June 28, from 1 to 3 p.m. at First Christian Church, 1314 S. W., First Ave.

Several representatives of federal, state and local agencies were not kept away by the rain, wind and hail, but many of the poor transportation service and moneymen were. About thirty-two low-income people did brave the stormy weather. Some 50 persons in all, including representatives of the press and TV stations, were present.

Representatives of the Albina Neighborhood Service Center, headed by Tom Wilson, attended and Richard Harris, from Youth Opportunity Center.

Tom Wilson was appointed for his remarks on the problems of the poor, jobless, disabled and senior citizens. He also spoke on the need to extend the Food Stamp Program and to make it more available to low-income people and to provide more money for the food stamp.

He urged the elderly present to work for a monthly basic pension to give the needy and elderly much needed transportation, as well as to correct the bad transportation pattern now in existence between the west side of Portland and Northwest, which requires that the passenger return to the west side of the river before he can get to South from South to Northeast.

The next People Problems Hearing will be held Wednesday, July 17, from 2 to 4 p.m. First Immanuel Lutheran Church Assembly Hall, 1416 N. W., Irving.

The Human Rights Council desires to communicate and coordinate efforts toward solving problems and issues affecting black people as well as white -- Indians and Spanish-Americans and other minority.

The Council proposes to carry on publicity work on the white problem and the question of bread and butter.

Free Classes Held For Expectant Mothers

Woodland Park Hospital, in cooperation with the Childbirth Education Association of Portland (CEAP), will offer a class for expectant parents. The class will meet for five two-hour sessions on Tuesdays at 7:45 p.m., beginning July 16.

The class, designed to prepare parents for the experience of childbirth, acquaints them with the mechanisms of pregnancy, labor and birth and instructs in a variety of exercises to assist in relaxation and control. The curriculum, developed by the New York Maternity Center, includes information on all the major medical approaches to child birth. The class is suitable for parents anticipating any type of childbirth experience.

The class is open to the public. There is no requirement that students be connected with Woodland Park Hospital.

CEAP, which will administer the classes, is a group of professional and lay people who are concerned that the Portland community have an adequate program of childbirth education. The group founded and has been a motivating force behind the six-year program of childbirth education classes at the YWCA. CEAP has a medical advisory panel which reviews its curriculum.

Instructor for the Woodland Park Hospital class will be Mary Zittenfield, RN, Mrs. Zittenfield, is the mother of two children, and a member of CEAP, who prepared for childbirth through a CEAP class.

Enrollment in the class will be strictly limited to 10 students, so that the instructor will have the time to give an individual attention.

Registration for the class may be arranged through Mr. and Mrs. James Gilmore, 2843 NE 3865.

For the class is $10.00.

We Shall Overcome

We Shall Overcome.

This phrase came to the attention of a volunteer group from Beaverton High School that made the Creative Art Workshop a success.

There were about twenty, eight of whom we persuaded in spite of numerous obstacles they faced in their effort to make the program succeed. Some of the obstacles are as follows:

Number one is that on Sunday between 2 and 4 was not a good time, expressed by some of the staff; number two we were told that we could not conduct the sessions at the Neighborhood Service Center because it was not equipped for such activity. Thanks to Mr. Rufus Butler of the Albina Art Center who permitted us to use their center.

Number three: there is a problem with transportation of the boys and girls from the Neighborhood Service Center to the Albina Art Center, the problem was solved through the School Board No. 4; number three: trying to secure a gym for the sports activities. We were able to secure the gym at Mallory Avenue Christian Church for about two Sundays.

Even the weather was on our side for the rest of the time.

The boy used the playground of the Elliot School.

The students were dedicated and deeply involved, they forgot race and color. They instructed the students in areas and credits, drama, ballet, music and sports. One of the girls became so involved that when she secured a job that prevented her from continuing, she quit the job.

The Creative Art Workshop met every Sunday from 2 p.m. from January to May, 1966. The final session was held at Beaverton High School, where the group performed for the students and their parents. They took the boys and girls on field trips from time to time and also took them to the Soul Assembly.

The adult advisor was Mr. John Techtinger, social studies teacher of the 11th and 12th grade students of Beaverton High School.

The students provided all the equipment needed to conduct the workshop and furnished all the refreshments for each session.

Their teaching skills are to be commended. What these students did, other young people can do. They proved that all young people aren’t the same. They aren’t all alike. Noticing there they were told that we could not use their center.

The creative art workshop, which began officially in the year of planning. Hopefully, the action phase of the Model Cities Program will begin in 1969.

In announcing the "Model Cities Rally," chairman Baskett said, "I hope that citizens of the model neighborhood and interested Portlanders will plan to attend our rally at Irving Park on July 28. The Model Cities Program demands and requires citizens' participation. Our "rally" will help inform our citizens about the entire program, and the progress that we are making."
