A Way to Peace

Man seems to flounder around rather helplessly in his attempt to find a stable foundation to rest his hope of international goodwill and peace for all mankind. The average American citizen is at a loss as to how to cope with a mixed up, very tense international situation that leaves him all but defeated in his quest for an answer to world peace.

One good place for American man to start is at home. One good way to prove to the rest of the world how sincere and honest is the American talk of peace is to practice it for all of the world to see.

This page can think of no better roots for peace than these ten commandments of goodwill we herewith reprint from Temple Beth El Bulletin, Jersey City, N. J.

I

I will respect all men and women regardless of race and religion.

II

I will protect and defend my neighbor and my neighbor's children against the ravages of racial or religious bigotry.

III

I will exemplify in my own life the spirit of goodwill and understanding.

IV

I will challenge the philosophy of racial superiority by whomsoever it may be proclaimed, whether they be kings, dictators or demagogues.

V

I will not be misled by the lying propaganda of those who seek to set race against race or nation against nation.

VI

I will refuse to support any organization that has for its purpose the spreading of Anti-Semitism, Anti-Catholicism or Anti-Protestantism.

VII

I will establish comradeship with those who seek to exalt the spirit of love and reconciliation throughout the world.

VIII

I will attribute to those who differ from me the same degree of sincerity that I claim for myself.

IX

I will uphold the civil rights and religious liberties of all citizens and groups whether I agree with them or not.

X

I will do more than live and let live—I will live and help live.

Dr. Walter W. VanKirk.

It isn't difficult for man to follow these ten simple commandments of goodwill. It doesn't take much effort. What it does take is the feeling of humanitarianism, the courage to stand up for a belief and the faith so necessary if man is to find peace of mind.

Williams Describes Coast As 'New Racial Frontier'

Speaking recently in Washington, D. C., Franklin Williams, NAACP west coast regional secretary, termed this region the "new frontier" of race relations. He said that "A Chinatown," "Little Tokyo," or "Mexican Colony" has been created in almost every western city, and that "the same vicious and undemocratic pattern is being foisted upon the Negro."

In further denunciation of the situation Williams stated, "The adjustments of our western communities to this 'new minority' differ as radically as the region's topography. In some few areas integration has made headway, in others a superficial acceptance has been extended, but in most the old western conception of good racial adjustment—insulation through segregation—has been followed."

Williams cited severe employment restrictions which many industries, businesses and unions have imposed on the Negro and said that "forces . . . have already resorted to fire and bomb to intimidate and secure the Negro behind segregated residential barriers."

Congressional Post Sought by Edith Green

Edith Green, Democratic candidate for Congress from the Third Congressional District, has long been an outstanding educational and civic leader. She taught in the Salem schools for 11 years; was in commercial radio work in Portland; was Multnomah County Program Director for the American Cancer Society; and was Director of Public Relations for the Oregon Education Association.

Mrs. Green has held innumerable offices in church, P.T.A., social-philanthropic and educational groups. She was a member of the State P.T.A. Board for 7 years—three years as State Legislative Chairman.

Edith Green is a member of the Baptist Church, League of Women Voters, the Urban League, American Federation of Radio Artists, American Association of University Women.

In her campaign for Secretary of State in 1952, she received the endorsement of most of the responsible editors in the State—including Independent and Republican papers. The Oregon Journal, for example, said of her: ". . . thoroughly familiar with state problems and legislative procedures . . . completely independent of selfish interest groups and party machine controls."

Mrs. Green has pledged herself to fight for civil rights, for the recapture of the Tidelands Oil revenues for the nation's schools, for fair labor laws, for improved social security, old age, and welfare benefits, for full development and conservation of our resources, and for an end to the 'Giveaway Program.'

Edith Green, said her supporters, "will give Multnomah county full and real representation in Congress. She will vote always for the general welfare . . . never for special interests. She has the honesty, the fearlessness, and the moral vigor we think of as traditionally American."

Letter to the Editor

To the Editors:

I have just seen a copy of the April 23 issue of the Portland Challenger in which is reported the civil rights case of Rev. and Mrs. Jesse L. Boyd arising out of the conduct of a motel owner in Bakersfield. (California)

The article states that, "an officer of the Bakersfield Anti-Defamation League represented the motel owner." This assertion is inaccurate. ADL has no officers in Bakersfield, and this office, which is responsible for ADL activities in Bakersfield, did not authorize any individual to use or speak in ADL's name in this litigation.

In view of this, it seems to me that the gratuitous identification of defendant's lawyer in this manner serves no constructive purpose and might, in fact, cause the kind of disaffection which we are mutually eager to avoid.

Milton A. Senn
Anti-Defamation League
Los Angeles, Cal.

Editor's note—The Challenger was equally amazed and suspicious to learn that an officer of the ADL was representing the defendant in this case.

Investigating the situation further, we learned from the Reverend and Mrs. Jesse Boyd that the information reached them in the form of rumor and they admit they "could have been misinformed."

Our opinion, at this time, is that the statement is untrue.

—The Editors.

Loomis to Run For Senate Post

GLENN W. LOOMIS
Seeks Senatorial Post

A resident of Oregon for 43 years and the operator of a successful printing-manufacturing business for the past 29 years has announced his candidacy for nomination for senator from Multnomah county.

Glenn W. Loomis has promised to work for the following platforms if elected:

Adequate pensions and more understanding administration of the needs of the deserving aged; practicing rigid economy in all state work committed to my attention the tax burden to be borne by those most able to do so; the highest wage structure and best working conditions for all labor; provide better pensions and loans to veterans of our armed forces and take steps to provide committee work that will ferret out the good and bad in our county court system of "farming out" wards of the court of domestic relations to "foster homes."

Announces Platform

Loomis' slogan is "qualified in conservative spending; yet progressively alert to Oregon's future development."

He calls unfortunate his belief that underprivileged children are not receiving the proper environment in many cases, and the right impetus to go on to become better citizens. "To nip delinquency in the bud and care for such children in the flower of their youth, will 'make for' empty rooms in the houses of correction later on," claims Loomis.

"I would like to see an impartial committee appointed to bring to the public, a black and white report of the success and discouragements of the present system of such care, and plans studied leading to the establishing of an Oregon Boys and Girls Town and Farm," remarked the Democratic candidate.

Loomis has been identified with organized labor for about 33 years in Oregon and at the present time conducts his own printing plant acceptable to labor and its contracts.

Two Surprised Prowling Tavern

Two men were surprised by a special patrolman early Sunday while prowling inside Mysterious Billy Smith's tavern at 1500 N. Wheeler avenue.

Special Officer Art Etheridge chased them on foot for several blocks after they fell out a window, but managed to capture only one, Robert E. Mosley Jr., 23, of 63 N. E. Thompson street. He was charged with burglary and lodged in jail under $3000 bail.

Mosley was apprehended at N. Williams avenue and Weidler street.

Later in the day Etheridge picked up Leroy Hutchinson, 25, 475 N. E. San Rafael street whom he identified as the man inside the tavern with Mosley.

Etheridge was alerted by a passerby who noticed someone in the tavern. Etheridge flashed his light through a window and spotted the two men hiding behind a bar. When they jumped out a side window, he gave chase.

Valentine's Trial Begins; Jurors Quizzed, Selected

the defense and prosecuting attorneys. Six men and six women were finally selected along with one male alternate. Ten of the prospective jurors were eliminated when they admitted having formed clear opinions of the case previously.

Fred Jensen, defense attorney, questioned the jurors to determine whether they were prejudiced either because Valentine is part Negro, Catholic or a narcotics addict.

In his opening argument, used only to inform the jury of the intended nature of his argument, Jensen said that he intended to prove that the Brice's family maid, Lizzie Mae Brown, knew Valentine long before the attempted crime and had been given a drink in a night club by Valentine. Another woman, Maudell Lindsay, had been present at that time, Jensen claimed.

As additional ammunition for the prosecution, Charles E. Raymond claimed that two Portland General Electric linemen, working in the vicinity of the Catlin-Hillside school, had seen Valentine escaping on foot from the scene on March 19.

In an additional surprise move, Jensen Thursday indicated his intention to take the witness stand himself for the defense. He asked Raymond and Raymond Carskadon, another prosecution attorney, to waive the rule prohibiting him from arguing the case if he testified. He was granted the waiver.

Jensen had previously claimed that he was denied permission to see Valentine by the police until after Valentine had been indicted. It was expected that Jensen's testimony would be in reference to this incident. He said that March 26 he was not allowed to see Valentine because the addict was reportedly too ill from the withdrawal of narcotics. However, Jensen said, later the same day Valentine was given two shots of morphine to enable him to go to court for arraignment.

Concerning his predicament Valentine said, "I am innocent and I know that if I have a fair

Car Strikes Girl, Injuries Suffered

Clara M. Henderson, 7-year-old of 3117 N. Williams avenue, was taken to Emanuel hospital Saturday suffering from a hip injury after being hit by a car in front of her home.

A witness to the accident, Wendell J. Ingam, 230 S. E. Hawthorne street, took the girl to the hospital. Driver of the car was Herbert Mackey.

trial I will go free. This is the first time I was ever in jail when I could say that I was innocent." The slim, 41-year-old prisoner has been held on dope charges before and has been variously employed as a card dealer.

At the opening of the trial crowds packed to the courtroom to hear the evidence. Early Thursday jurors and other interested parties including Judge R. Bain of the circuit court visited the scene of the attempted kidnapping, going first to the Brice home at 1750 SW West Point court. Next the group drove to the Catlin-Hillside school at 617 NH Culpepper terrace where a crowd of onlookers, principally school children, observed them as they examined the school grounds and building. The group saw the bullet hole in the door of the room in which Mrs. Brice attempted to hide.

The kidnapper had gone first to the Brice home where he forced his way in at gunpoint, commandeered Mrs. Brice and her maid and forced them to drive him to the school, where it was the would-be kidnapper's intention to abduct the boy.

Jensen said Thursday, "I do not defend the crime that was committed, but I believe in the innocence of this man (Valentine)."

All but one member of the jury has been married and all but two claim to have children.

Jones Declines NAACP Position

Rev. J. Harold Jones II, ex-minister of Hughes Memorial Methodist church and now minister of Quayle Methodist church in Oklahoma City, Okla., recently turned down a field secretary position with the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Rev. Jones would have been field secretary for Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas with headquarters at Dallas, Tex. A statement released by Rev. Jones said:

Rumors have been rampant in Oklahoma City that I would accept a top position in NAACP at the end of the conference year in June. It is true that I have been offered such a position by the national office, however, my bishop is currently abroad, and I do nothing without his consent. My church responsibilities come first. It flatters me to know that national considered me for such a position. However, in the light of the present circumstances, I do not accept.

Rev. Jones is a member of the Oklahoma city council of Churches and active on various committees of that group. He is also a member of the Oklahoma City branch of the NAACP.

Delinquents increase—number of youngsters brought to courts increased 29 per cent over 1949 to 1952. Because of increasing child population, the 1,000,000 juveniles presently picked up by police each year could grow to 1,400,000 by 1960 without any increase in current rates.

The Speech That Changed A Vote!

The galleries were packed with visitors who gathered to learn the fate of the Civil Rights Bill, sponsored by the late beloved Senator Harry Kenin. Those in the know realized the vote would be close — 16 votes are necessary to pass a bill in the Oregon Senate. As the roll call proceeded a conservative upstate Senator passed a note to a Multnomah County Senator "I had intended to vote NO—but Mahoney's speech convinced me."

HISTORY WAS MADE

For the first time in history a Civil Rights Bill passed the Oregon Senate. And it passed by a margin of 1 vote. 'Twas February 22, 1939 (Washington's Birthday). True the bill was pigeon-holed in the House of Representatives—but history was made and eventually the foes of bigotry were defeated when the present Civil Rights law was passed in 1953.

THOMAS R. MAHONEY
Seeks nomination

A TIME PROVEN FRIEND!

The speech made by the then Senator Mahoney was his first major legislative speech. He later had an effective part in framing and helping pass the Fair Employment Law in 1949. During the Philadelphia convention of 1948 Mahoney led the roll call in the Oregon Democratic convention which forced the adoption of a real Civil Rights plank in the National Platform.

Judge Mahoney, who is now practicing law but who was recently appointed Circuit Judge pro tempore by the Supreme Court is a candidate for Circuit Judge Dept. No. 7.

See Mahoney's pages in Voters pamphlet and section entitled "No second class citizens."

Grant Announces Decision to Run

Harry Grant has filed his candidacy for the Democratic nomination in the May primaries for Multnomah county treasurer. Grant, runner-up for the county treasurer post four years ago, is a native Oregonian, 39 years old, married and heads his own property and business management firm.

He is a member of several civic and fraternal organizations and has served as a Democratic committee man for 16 years. If elected, Grant said he will support an economical, efficient and sound business-like administration. Under the slogan, "Courteous Service to All," Grant reported he pledges the Multnomah citizens more efficiency, more economy, less spending and less politics.

Grant received over 29,000 Democratic votes for this same position in 1950 and wishes to express his sincere thanks to the many Democrats for their past support.

Epps Fined $500 On Lottery Count

A 53-year-old man who admitted to police that he conducted a lottery, was fined $500 last week. Simon Holloway Epps, 37 N. E. Fargo street, was convicted in municipal court Thursday on a charge of possessing lottery paraphernalia.

Epps was taken into custody April 26 on two traffic violations at N. Williams avenue and Russell street. He told officers that the headquarters of his lottery moved from place to place in the N. Williams avenue area.
