Charlotta Bass Sees Only Hope In Progressives

BY JOY BROCK

Mrs. Charlotta Bass, first Negro to run for vice-president of the United States, spoke Sunday evening at 7:30 at the Norse hall. Mrs. Bass is being supported by the Progressive party.

Miss Bass, mentioned indirectly as being in favor of: 1) Civil Rights (she said this bill went to Congress but when it came to trial, Truman had to go to Florida for a rest and catch some more fish, instead of fighting it out; 2) Lynching being made a federal law in this country; 3) Elimination of excessive taxation; 4) Elimination of remuneration for war implements; 5) Eradication of discrimination in Federal Housing; 6) More adequate schools and playgrounds for our children; and 7) Sufficient insurance and adequate Old Age Pension ($150 per month for 60 year olds and over).

Taft-Hartley Act Hit

She mentioned about the "Taft-Hartley law which Truman denounced verbally but never did anything about it." Then there was Eisenhower "who continually fosters war hysteria by rearmament which," she believes, "will eventually lead us into bankruptcy. In 1948-50 when I was campaigning, I found no difference between the Republican party and the Democratic party and still don't except in the "Sharing of the Spoils."

Mrs. Bass is one of the instigators of the Progressive party. The party is four years old. Her personal opinion of the two major parties was recorded as saying, "I think nothing of the two major parties. Both Parties are unveiling an ambiguity—preaching peace and practicing war." She feels that the Progressive party is the only party backing the late President Roosevelt's program.

Former Eagle Editor

She was chosen for outstanding woman in 1946 by the Sigma Delta Theta sorority, chosen to christen the Liberty ship "James Weldon Johnson," member of Eastern Star; Publisher and Editor for 40 years of the oldest Negro newspaper on the West Coast, The California Eagle, and a one time top worker for the Republican party.

She said Eisenhower was asked the question of favoring federal law regarding equality of education and FEP and his rebuttal was "such laws should be handled by the state, not under federal government."

Mrs. Bass mentioned that the NAACP will not endorse any candidate for president from the Democratic or Republican parties, and that is why we are in need of a Progressive party.

Urban League Members Meet

The Urban League held another meeting last Thursday, June 26, for 200 members at the YWCA.

The program consisted of an interesting panel discussion on the "Year Ahead." Participants were: T. Lawson McCall, public relations chairman, who spoke on "Influencing the Public"; Mark A. Smith, program chairman, who talked on "How We Will Do It"; Abe Leo Cohn, chairman of finance, whose text was "The Where With All"; and Robert W. Fritsch, membership chairman, whose subject was "Who Will Do It."

There was general discussion, questions and suggestions.

The League shared their meet-

Former Prizefighter Shot, Killed Over Gambling Debt

Former prizefighter, Bowie Butler, 34, 119 N. E. Sacramento street, was shot twice last Sunday by Leroy Jordan, 36, and died later at Emanuel hospital.

Jordan was charged with first-degree murder after he walked into central police headquarters with a friend and admitted to the desk sergeant that he did the shooting.

He signed a full confession Sunday night, according to police reports.

The shooting, according to Jordan, occurred after an argument between he and Butler over the proceeds of a dice game.

Jordan is alleged to have accosted Butler on N. Albina avenue near Knott street after he had entered a home and obtained a gun and demanded the money Butler was supposed to have taken from him.

Jordan said Butler refused and when he approached him with his hand in his pocket he fired his gun twice at him and he fell to the street.

Butler was undergoing surgery at the time of his death. (See pictures this page.)

Last Rites Held For Bethel Duo

Bethel AME church records the death this week of two of its elder members, both of the stewardess board.

Mrs. Mary Turner, 80 years old, died Saturday, June 21, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Zepha Baker, at 6535 NE Grand avenue. Mrs. Turner had suffered a stroke and was ill for several weeks. She had been a member of Bethel church since she came to Portland from Kansas about 32 years ago. Bereaved also are her sons, George and Roy Turner. Other survivors are granddaughter, Roy Turner Jr., grandson and five great-grandchildren.

Throughout the years Mrs. Turner had kept her membership in the Rebecca Chapter OES in Topeka, Kansas.

The Rev. Jesse Boyd conducted memorial services for Mrs. Turner at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday, June 24 in the Drawing Room Chapel of the Colonial Mortuary. Burial was in Rose City Cemetery.

Mrs. Mary Howard died June 20 after a long illness at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Dixie Lee Harris. "Mother" Howard, as many people addressed her, was 65-years-old. Mrs. Geneva Hoy and Miss Jessie B. Howard, daughters, survive as do five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Services, in charge of Colonial Mortuary, were held at the church Monday, June 23, at 2 p.m. with the Rev. Jesse Boyd officiating. Interment was at Lincoln Memorial park.

WAF Recruits Portland Girl

The Women in the Air Force received a new recruit last week when Miss Doris Jennings Whitsett was sworn in at the Portland main WAF recruiting station.

A native of St. Joseph, Missouri, and the daughter of Mr. David Jennings, 2028 N. Williams avenue, she came to Portland in 1941 and graduated from Washington high school in 1946.

While attending Washington she was president of the interracial club. She has also been president of the Junior Hostess club of the USO.

In March she became a member of the Practical Nurses association and just recently she received an Associate in Art from Multnomah college.

Miss Whitsett will take her basic training at Lackland air force base, San Antonio, Texas.

NAACP Influences

Franklin H. Williams, regional director of the NAACP from San Francisco, urged that the 11 branches of the Northwest Area conference from Anchorage, Alaska, to Klamath Falls, Oregon, appoint committees to contact the delegates to the Republican and Democratic conventions to urge them to include a strong civil rights plank in their platforms asking for (1) Federal fair employment legislation with enforcement powers, (2) revision of Senate Rule 22 to permit the Senate by a simple majority vote to stop a filibuster and (3) bills supporting suppression of mob violence, the abolition of the poll tax and protect the right of the ballot, ban segregation in the armed forces and in all federally aided facilities.

Williams pointed out that a recent Roper report on organizations influencing voters shows that 8% of voters are influenced by NAACP positions on the records of candidates and that nearly 50% of the Negro voters would be influenced.

Officers Elected

Mark Smith, president of the Vancouver branch, was chairman of arrangements for the conference. Delegates were present from Seattle, Tacoma, Yakima, Vancouver and Portland. The Northwest area will send eight delegates to the forty-third annual conference in Oklahoma City June 24 to 29. The West coast region will send 80 delegates this year which will be the largest delegation every attending from the West coast.

Officers elected for the Northwest Area for the coming year are: President, William H. Underwood, Vancouver, re-elected; Vice President, Mrs. Hubert DeWitty, Seattle; Secretary, Mrs. Warren Marple, Portland; Assistant Secretary, Mrs. A. S. Booth, Seattle; Treasurer, Mrs. John Ellis, Yakima.

Principles of Fatal Shooting

Russell Not for FEPC

Georgia's pet for the Democratic presidential nomination, Senator Richard Russell, was in Portland last week and drew his contempt of a strong, compulsory FEPC (fair employment practice commission) bill. The senator seems to think that it's a state problem, not to be tampered with by the federal government.

Russell claims he has always been a friend of the Negro and has done many things to up their plight in his native state. How he justifies this claim is a mystery to many when the low segregated conditions and practices of his home state are taken into consideration.

The Georgian candidate could well bear in mind that the people of the United States are guaranteed civil rights under the Constitution. When states attempt to bar civil liberties to certain segments of its population because of color, religion or creed in direct defiance of the country's constitutional law and guarantee, then the only recourse for the minority is to appeal to the federal government for enforcement of their rights.

An outsider—non-American—will undoubtedly be shocked to learn that we have to enact civil rights ordinances in order to protect the liberty of the individual.

Isn't it a paradox for America, the land of freedom and equality, to have to enact such shameful legislation as the FEPC and its like?

True Facts on Interracial Life Topic of Berry Talk

BY JOY BROCK

Staff Writer, The Challenger

Mr. Edwin C. Berry was guest speaker on the Men's Day program at Bethel A.M.E. church. The topic was "Blueprint in the Future of Race Relations." Mr. Berry gave nine important points and elaborated on each. The points were predominantly directed to the Negro to make him also aware of his responsibility in the progress of democracy.

Point I was the importance of "Learning the True Facts" about race-relations and eliminating stereotyping. He stated that many Negroes believe that just because they are Negroes, they automatically understand race relations and the information they deliver and believe is often times false.

Point 2—Understanding the True Meaning of Democracy. Every individual has to work for his freedom; nothing is given to us free. Then we should obtain what rightfully belongs to us according to our own merits or demerits, but not just because we are Negroes.

Point 3—Decide Whether or Not We Want Integration or Segregation. Many Negroes have not decided as yet. This is evidenced in self segregation in public places personal prejudicial attitudes and stereotyping.

Point 4—Teaching Our Children Freedom. Our children learn from us. If we instill in their minds that their color is a handicap, and because they are Negroes they can't do certain things, they will soon believe it and act accordingly. We must teach our children to respect themselves, hold their heads high and that they too are American citizens, privileged to compete in our society according to their own individual merits.

Point 5—Stop Hating Ourselves. We need to have more confidence in ourselves. We must learn to be strong enough to rise above conflict and be proud we are Negroes.

Point 6—Stop Shifting the Blame. We often find ourselves not facing reality and searching for a scapegoat to place the blame of our errors. Sometimes the Negro will blame it on his color or on the white man, when actually it was on his own demerits. We should look at ourselves and see if we are justified in these accusations or are just afraid to face our own errors.

Point 7—Paying Our Own Way. We must learn to stop begging for the things we need and buying the things we want. Mr. Berry sighted examples as fine cars and clothes, but no home. We should also send contributions to organizations which are working for the betterment of the human race. He said, "We have to pay rent for the space we occupy on earth."

Point 8—Stop Being Prejudiced. A good share of Negroes are prejudiced and don't realize it. Many Negroes can be and are just as prejudiced as Caucasians. It is depicted in their conversations, mode of thinking and actions. We have to eliminate prejudices for better race relations.

Point 9—Participation in Community Projects. Race relations can best be improved through cooperation of both Negro and Caucasians in community projects. Here the Negro is proving that he too can carry his load and stand up and be counted.

Mr. Berry's speech was factual and down to earth. He portrayed it in such a way that the audience could see themselves in many of the situations he presented. It was a speech that stimulated thought and needed to be heard over and over again so we can see ourselves as others see us.

Ike Has Wrong Slant on FEPC

Dwight Eisenhower is "unwilling to believe that punitive federal law, when it penetrates into the area reserved for the states, will meet the problem"—in this case the problem is equality for all with strong backing from the federal government. . . . Although he is against the controversial compulsory FEPC legislation, Ike has reversed his stand on army-segregation. Said the former general: "We can no longer afford to hold onto the anachronistic principles of race segregation in the armed services."

Knocking off the general practice of the American public to stereotype, thus ignoring Eisenhower's former military capacity, it is unfortunate for him to take such an unfavorable stand on civil rights for the man has the other attributes that would make him fine presidential timber. He could be a good man.

Bogle Says:

Deep, conscientious thought and actions should be given rights.

BY RICHARD BOGLE

With the recent focusing of so much attention on Congressional investigations some deep and conscientious thought and action regarding the rights of those investigated is needed.

In many instances the nature of the investigations has been that of a trial . . . a trial however that sometimes leaves the person investigated without court room procedures to defend his actions or his reputation.

I am not saying that these investigations are not necessary. They are. Congress has authority to do this that stems from their power to legislate. The scope of national affairs has grown and right along with that so has the number of subjects that our congressmen must be well informed.

Without first hand information our congressional leaders would be legislating in a vacuum.

Many of the committees conducting these investigations do them in a fair and judicious manner. But even though the affair is handled fairly sometimes the press, radio and television spread the accusations throughout the whole country.

Senator Kefauver has introduced a bill to congress calling for a set order of procedure in these investigations. No action has been taken on this bill or similar ones.

Since the purpose of congressional probes is to seek information some guarantees should be made to those individuals being investigated that protection will be given their basic individual rights.

News In Brief

DeNorval Unthank Jr. and his wife Debbie are the proud parents of a rousing 6 pound 13 ounce baby boy. On hand to greet the new arrival was Unthank's family and Debbie's mom. It is the first "grandparent" role for both sides. Latest Unthank was born Sunday in Eugene.

Viewers of "Skirts Ahoy," now playing at the Liberty on Broadway, are talking about the local girl who marches with an all-Negro drill squad during the USO scene. She is Dee Tracy. Her picture also appeared in Ebony magazine two months ago in a preview on the picture.

Also noted in "Skirts Ahoy" is the apparent integration of races. UP railroaders can reminisce over shots of famed Chicago skyline and Northwestern station.

Remember Harold Hoskins, George Hill? Both are living in Los Angeles now. The latter is reportedly preparing himself for mortuary school. Lester Shepherd, brother of Art, is now in the air force in Texas where he is attending officers candidate school.

Guess who's in town for 21 days—thanks to the never-ending generosity of Uncle Sam—none other than Mood Indigo himself, Milt Emanuel. He has just finished his basic training at Fort Ord where integration is the order of the day and has proved its worth.

Emanuel didn't have time to do any singing. . . . seems he had a little trip to make to Stevenson, Washington, June 20 where he said hello (in an "I do" sort or way) to Dolores Boddie. So it's now Mr. and Mrs. Milton Emanuel.

James Cantrell, 3203 S. E. Tibbetts street, fell from a step ladder at home last week and broke a bone in his left ankle and foot. The fracture caused him to rest at Good Samaritan hospital and will keep him away from his job for quite some time. . . . Evans Cantrell is planning a visit to Portland soon, perhaps next weekend.

Alonzo Woods and Fred Johnson "did their little chores" to perfection for big Kappa brothers last Saturday and are now neophytes in Kappadom.

High-spirited Miss Sadie Grimmett is at home now following a delicate eye surgery, the aftermath of a picnic in which her left eye was injured by a rock.

Miss Grimmett has to be warned on occasions by her mother to take it easy and let her guests do the talking.

This young Oregon graduate deserves lots of plaudits from her many friends for the fine comeback she has staged, certainly typical of her happy personality.

The Supreme Court of the United States will hear two cases involving Jim Crow schools sometime in November. The two cases will challenge segregation in school systems of Topeka, Kansas and Clarendon County, S. C.

Slaughter on Williams Avenue

By Dick Bogle

During a recent convention of the American Federation of Musicians it was reported that the slower speeds of records are now bringing in one third of the total revenue to the recording business. It really seems as though the 45s and 33s are catching on to say the least.

Gossip has it that King Cole and Lionel Hamton are planning a joint concert tour of the South. Also Sugar Ray Robinson has been approached to join the group at a reported $800 a date.

Errol Garner has formed a new trio in Boston. The new combo has featured, along with Garner, Rodney Richardson on bass and Joe Harris has replaced Shadow Wilson on drums.

Cab Calloway has junked his small band in favor of the stage. He opens in Los Angeles an "Sportin' Life" in the cast of "Porgy and Bess."

One of the top record releases of the month is "Beezy" by James Moody. It is strictly up tempo all the way and Moody gives his tenor a nice free-wheeling solo "Whirlalicks" by Bennie Green is a nice side also up tempo with excellent trombone work by Mr. Green. Incidentally Green will appear with the Earl Hines band here at a later date.

Portlanders are currently talking very excitedly about Bernie's Fraternal club and the fine entertainment it offers. Don Anderson and Al Johnson are two of the featured musicians. Anderson had been playing his piano at Vancouver's Circus Room and Johnson is a well known Portland bassist.

'Ad Infinitum' Next For St. Philips Set

St. Philips Players invites the public to attend "Ad Infinitum," a satire on human life. It consists of insects portraying the various phases of the lives of human beings.

It will depict the greedy man, whose life's ambition is to hoard wealth; the man who craves for a family and material wealth being of very little importance; the fickle man and woman in their shallow love; and the other phases of life which are common to man.

The production will be presented under the direction of Arthur Perrow, Sunday, January 29, at 3 o'clock p.m. in Mt. Tabor park. The admission is free and the public is invited.

Vickers Exalted Ruler Of Billy Webb Lodge

For the third time Thomas R. Vickers was elected to the post of Exalted Ruler of Billy Webb Lodge No. 1050 IBPOE of W of Portland, Oregon, last Saturday.

A native of Florida, Vickers has resided in Portland since 1946.

Recently he was appointed to teach at Boise elementary school for the coming school year.

Mrs. Edna Cain Injured in Fall

Mrs. Edna Cain suffered a severe fall down a flight of stairs at the Williams avenue YWCA where she is employed as custodian. The accident occurred Sunday afternoon and Mrs. Cain was taken to Emanuel hospital for treatment. Mr. and Mrs. William Jackson are the proud parents of twin boys born June 20 at Wilcox Memorial hospital. The little boys have been named Bruce and Brent and tipped the scales at 4 lbs-12 oz and 5 lbs-1 oz respectively. Mrs. Jackson is reported to be getting along nicely.

Mrs. Hattie Redmond is under treatment at Multnomah hospital. Mrs. Clara Logan White is ill at St. Vincent's hospital.

Mother Visits Here

Mrs. Myrtle White is currently host to her mother, Mrs. Mary Annice Brown from Louisiana. This is Mrs. Brown's first visit to Portland. She hasn't been here long enough to comment on the city other than to say, "It's pretty."

She plans a tentative stay of one month at her daughter's home.

New Arrival Here

William Graggs Dinner Hosts

The William Graggs of Vancouver, Washington, were dinner hosts for 12 at their home on Sunday for the pleasure of Dr. and Mrs. Carr Treherne. Other hosts for the Trehernes have been Mr. and Mrs. Otto Rutherford, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Wirt R. Morton and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Jordan. Dr. Treherne left Monday for the family home in Nashville. Mrs. Treherne will visit for a few days longer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wirt H. Morton before returning with the three children to Nashville.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Manse Holladay, of Columbus, Georgia, spent two weeks here with Mr. Holladay's brother, Mr. George Holladay of S. E. Thirteenth street. Another brother, C. F. Holladay of Oakland, also visited with the family and was here in time to celebrate his birthday.

Charles Young of Omaha will spend the summer in Portland visiting with his father, Cornelius Young and Mrs. Young.

Mrs. Mary M. Duncan was brunch hostess for nine ladies on Saturday at her home in Irvington. Mrs. Clarence McCullough of Seattle and Mrs. Joseph Taylor of Omaha, were honored guests. Mrs. Taylor is house guest of Mrs. Sue Johnson while visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Taylor Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Cornell McDougald entertained twenty of the young marrieds at their home with an after-party following the June Ball.

Invitations are out for two summer formals, both second annual events sponsored by their hosts. The first on the calendar is the Kappa's ball planned for the evening of June 28, at the Portland Woman's club building. The other of this pair is to be on July 4th with July Birthday club as hosts at the American Legion hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johns have as their guests, Mrs. Ruby Bean and her daughter Miss Oia Mae Bills of San Francisco. Among the affairs planned for Mrs. Bean and Miss Bills were the dinner party for which Mr. and Mrs. James Gant were hosts on Sunday evening and a Saturday brunch for which Mrs. E. Johnson was hostess. The Daffodil Birthday club entertained at dinner at the Johns' residence for the visitors on Saturday evening and Mrs. Jessie M. Wilson was dinner hostess Monday evening in their honor.

The teen-age set have kept Miss Bills' time filled with no-host swimming parties and picnics. Miss Rebecca Caldwell entertained at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Caldwell, with a dancing party Saturday evening to honor Miss Bills. Mrs. Otto Rutherford left this week for Oklahoma City to be a delegate from the Portland branch at the national convention of the NAACP. Mrs. Rutherford serves the local branch as secretary.

Because of the illness of Mrs. Robert Joyner, Mrs. Eugene Carden has spent several days in Seattle. Dr. and Mrs. Joyner are former Portland residents. Mrs. Carden returned to Portland to receive her guests, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas White of San Jose. The Whites are dividing a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. Carden in Portland and with other friends in Seattle. The Misses Sally and Edna Rivera accompanied their uncle and aunt on the jaunt.

Mr. and Mrs. Belvin Williams had Sunday supper for eight guests for the pleasure of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence McCullough of Seattle.

Catholics Honor Mother

Francis Cardinal Spellman, Archbishop of New York, awarded a certificate to Mrs. Maceo A. Thomas, 48, and mother of nine children, honoring her as Catholic Mother of the Year. Mrs. Thomas is the first woman of her race to receive the national honor.

Challenger's Corner

By Lonnie Harris, Sports Editor

The Produce Merchants, with Al Rivers on the mound, completed first half play with a record of three wins and four losses. The record wasn't too good but the second half promises to be better.

In the May 30 issue of the Challenger there was a mistake about big Don Newcombe, one of the Dodgers' top moundsmen last season. The news about Don getting out of the army was unofficial instead of official. He has to serve a two-year hitch.

Satchel Paige bested the Washington Senators in a 17-inning contest the other day. The ageless Paige came in in the 8th frame and finished the game for his mates. Not only did he receive credit for the win, but he also banded out 3 for 3 and won the game with his third single. His record is 5 wins, 1 loss.

Paige is accused of making illegal motions with his glove against the Athletics, thus confusing the opposing batsmen. He told the umpire, "The ball was moving, not the glove, and they were complaining because I struck out their big guy (Gus Zernial) number 19."

Bob Boyd is still pacing the coast leaguers with an average of .330. He started late in the season due to the case of ulcers suffered after a strenuous winter league schedule. Boyd and Artie Wilson combine to give Seattle a one-two punch.

Terry Singleton and Sam Johnson are playing for the Chiefs in the city league. So far this season the team has been in tough luck but they are planning to add strength for the second half of league play.

Terry (as most of you fans remember him from Vanport) is a classy third baseman and has been around quite a spell. Johnson is one of the pitchers for the team. If anyone has seen this Johnson pitch, he is on the order of the Athletic's Bobby Shantz. By that I mean in size. He possesses a sharp-breaking curve and a humming fast ball.

Jackie Robinson was ejected from the game against Chicago June 2 after he protested a third called strike.

Robinson and Roy Campanella are leading the National league polls for the all-star game. Campanella just recently had the cast removed from his injured thumb.

In the American league polls Minnie Minoso is second to Dale Mitchell for the left field spot with 231,616 votes. Larry Doby is running a close second as is Suitcase Simpson. Doby became the first player to hit for the cycle this season. Against the Boston Red Sox he slammed out a home run, triple, double and a single. The

Winslows Topple Hill's Softballers

Winslow's softball nine made it three straight over Hill's club in its now regular Sunday afternoon challenge games with a 26-25 victory last Sunday.

On the mound for Winslows was Melvin Allen. His pitching, coupled with the fine defensive work of shortstop Fielding Winslow, overshadowed a shaky Winslow defense to eke out the win.

Added incentive to the competitors is the pay off for the victors, a coveted case of a popular thirst quencher.

Next game is scheduled for Irvington park this Sunday afternoon, June 29.

THE FINAL United States' Olympic tryouts with Portland's Emery Barnes one of favorites in the high jump event.

Emery Barnes in Finals Saturday for Olympics

Portland has really got an athlete to be proud of in big Emery Barnes, who has risen phenomenally in the past few weeks from an obscure trackman to one of the finest high jumpers in the nation.

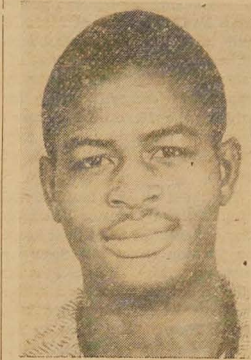

He did it again Saturday for second place in the high jump event with a leap of 6 feet 8 3/4 inches, the highest jump of his career.

This leap was done against the stiffest competition the country could muster together at one time. It pitted the top in college against the best in AAU circles.

Barnes had already qualified for the Olympic final tryouts to in Los Angeles when he tied three high jumpers tomorrow (Saturday) in Los Angeles, he will qualify to make the trip to Helsinki next month to represent his country in the big Olympic meet.

- AAU Results:
- 110-meter hurdles — Harrison Dillard, :13.7.
 - 200-meter dash—Ollie Matson, :21.6; Andy Sanfield, :21.3.
 - 300-meter run—Reginald Pearman, 1:52.9.
 - 400-meter run—Mal Whitfield, :46.4.
