McElroy's Last Ball

The City's favorite annex, 424 S.W. Main Street (Bureau of Planning), soon to be dust and rubble under the merciless wrecker's ball, offers a special salute to the walls and floors of yesteryear, when the building was once McElroy's Spanish Ball Room.

Join us for McElroy's LAST BALL, in nostalgic celebration with Big Band
Music by "Bobby Baker's Good Time Band", Sunday, April 20, 1980...7:00 to 11:00 p.m.

In the McElroy's tradition, coca-cola and 7-up will be served. $5 per couple, $2.75
singles.

P.S. Shoulder pads and suspenders welcome.

- (1)
- Dick H. had a line-item slush fund.
 - (which means that there were two slush funds in transportation planning - Dick's, and Doug Wright's).
 - Came in handy, tho. - to pay the MFEC that Cowles M. levied against because of all the water Leo was using watering his plants.
 - And, of course, Dick learned all he knew about slush funds from Marjorie Lundell.
- (over)

When she left the Bureau, if you noticed, she was moved by a Brits armored car.

⑤ there's lot of slush around here as a matter of fact.

● Laurel always had it all over her shoes from tramping around in Bridgeton-Faloma with Lloyd Anderson and Mo Jurbitz.

● There's all that slush
on the walls of the women's rest room.

Rudy Barton did all
the paper work to get that rest room
designated as an historic landmark, but George McMath and Joan
Smith couldn't agree
on which wall should
be designated and George refused to go in and look.

● Karen Baldwin — let me be the first to let this out of the

bag - was responsible for
the rest room graffiti,
of course. You know
she tried to get the
graffiti funded but
she couldn't meet the EEO guidelines for maintenance persons -
no man would go in there.

● And then there was
the ~~the~~ person-hotel.

● And there's Marcie -
who starts out all her
zone change reports
with the first 2
stanzas of "We shall Overcome."

③
● Marziotti had a slush fund of grants. Every time you turned your head, he had another staff person. ~~and~~
At the end of his stay here, he had a hot-line to HUD — in case a new grant possibility opened up.

● Spencer Vail had a kind of a slush bucket — into which he would cry every Wednesday afternoon after City Council.
George Fleerlage uses it now.

~~Some people had thought~~

- Some things we want to forget. When we asked City Council for the competing, we said we would be here for at least 5 years — that was 3 years ago.

~~But it's had lots of~~

- But it's had lots of wear — like the night Sandy was 21. Pam and Julie and Sandy and Jim Teasdale all got sick on the ~~carpet~~ comprehensive plan floor.

• Collette Wright - only (4)
me on the retreat
who got drunk on
cheap wine.

• And Mike Katz who
was the one who thought
up the retreat — if
the newspaper guys
are here.

• And Mike Lindberg
who didn't drink at
all at the retreat —
same! But now he's even quit smoking

~~• ~~Bob~~ ~~Stinson~~~~

• Matt Kramer lost
a mano on underground
wiring 8 yrs. ago.
The movers found it
today — still couldn't understand it.

• Rod Olson started his presentation on the downtown plan right here in this room back in 1968. He's scheduled to finish it in 1983.

• I see that Lloyd Keefer's 1959 comprehensive plan is still up in the back room.

• Is it going with you, or staying?

I understand Tracy Watson is ~~talking~~

it with ~~him~~ offered that to City Council as ~~an~~ his second choice Frank took it.

• The wreckers will find some things stashed away out of sight.

• Like the So. Portland study done by Emie Munch.

Everybody else went to Wash. D.C. — Emie stayed to finish the So. Portland study.

• Steve Dotterer is still working on the So. Portland study.

• and last but not least —

through the largest - Frank Frost. ~~the~~

I told him not to take that job. I pleaded with him.
He still took it.

Because he found
Dick Heffland's
slush fund - and
then spent it
all at 'Dian's for coffee. ~~and~~
