Plinkit

National Collaboration with a
Local Impact

Overview

- Plinkit (the software)
- Plinkit (the collaborative)
- Extract some pertinent points

Early History

- 2003 LSTA Competitive Grant, Multnomah County Library, ten pilot libraries
- 2005 Transitioned to Oregon State Library
- Software upgrade, content tweaking
- 2006 Plinkit re-launched in Oregon

Why?

- Way-back machine: 2002/2003
- Public Library Websites
 - Non-existent
 - Poor quality
 - Lacking “library” features
- Lack of expertise, time
- Not-so-cooperative IT departments

What?

- Easy-to-maintain
- Pre-built
- Professional-looking
- Free set-up, training, hosting, and support

(Pretty appealing)

Features + Content = Plinkit

- Open source CMS (Plone)
- Workflow
- Roles/Permissions
- WYSIWYG editor, browser-based
- In-place navigation
- Explicit content types

Features + Content = Plinkit

- Pre-populated with useful content
- Well-organized
- Can be used as-is
- Can be modified
- Can be deleted

Expand?

- Oregon not the only state with this problem
- How to make this available to any library that might want it?

What if...

we collaborated...

to work smarter...

...instead of harder?

Why?

- State libraries, regional systems, and cooperatives similar resource constraints
 - Staff
 - Expertise
 - Funding
- What would happen if staff, expertise, and funding could be pooled?

What?

- Fee-based, membership organization to deploy Plinkit “locally”

Who?

- State Libraries
- Regional Systems
- Cooperative Organizations

How?

- Funding
- Structure
- Process
- Contributions

Funding

- Annual membership fee
- Determined by members
- Started “high”, reduced as more members joined
- Budgetary needs

Structure / Roles

- Steering Committee
- Project Coordinators Group
- Technical Group
- User's Advisory
- Fiscal Sponsor
- Paid Staff (part-time)

Processes

- Consensus
 - Regular teleconferences, mailing lists
- Goals, timeline, priorities
- Budget
- By-laws
- More as needed...

Example

- Customize Plone for Plinkit
 - Technical group: software specifications
 - Project coordinators: review feature list
 - Steering committee approves
 - Technical/PCs agree on process, review proposals (including costs), select vendor, receive initial contract
 - Technical/PCs approve contract, Steering Committee final stamp of approval, fiscal sponsor pays the bills

Contributions

- Marketing and training materials
- Code snippets
- Ideas

Characteristics

- Balancing interdependence and independence
- Consensus: a voice at every level
- Different “local” business models
- Flexibility
- Varying resource levels

Recent Accomplishments

- 2010 Over 250 public libraries in seven states
- Software developed
- Manuals updated
- By-laws in place
- More formal budgeting process
- User's Advisory (local library staff)

Local Impact

- Funding and work gets distributed
 - Software specification/development/testing
 - User's and Administrator's Manuals
 - Technical support
- Local input via User's Advisory group
- Without Collaborative, improvements cost/resource prohibitive

How?

- Champion to promote the idea/vision
- Willing participants
 - Offer something they need
- Timing

How?

- Baby steps
- Structure
- Growth
