

Dr. Yasmin Ramirez is visual arts researcher at the Center for Puerto Rican Studies, New York. She earned her Ph.D. in Art History from the City University of New York in 2005 with a dissertation entitled: “Nuyorican Vanguard : Political Actions / Poetic Visions, A History of Puerto Rican artists in New York, 1964-1984.” Her academic awards include: the SSRC Dissertation Research Fellowship on the Arts and Sciences, and the Mellon Dissertation Fellowship. Dr. Ramirez was a consulting curator at El Museo del Barrio from 1999-2001 and the curator of Taller Boricua from 1996-1998. She has written for publications such as Art in America and Art Nexus. Her exhibition catalog essays include: “Parallel Lives, Striking Differences: Notes on Chicano and Puerto Rican Graphic Arts of the 1970s,” “Timeline of El Museo del Barrio,” and “La Vida: The life and writings of Miguel Pinero in the art of Martin Wong.”