

If Portland State offered a course that was open to all on “What Everyone Should Know about Climate Change”, what would you like to see addressed in that course?	Like this comment? Upvote it! (add 1 to existing number)	I am a/n...	Your email (optional)
Disaster preparedness	3	Unknown
How to be in community - to heal, learn, and envision together	1	Unknown
Action. Organizations with volunteer opportunities and speakers from environmental nonprofits		Unknown
Centering underrepresented populations in resources included	2
How to build collaborations for complex change	3	Staff member
Basic science of climate	2	Staff member
Climate politics and policy	3	Unknown
Opportunities to get involved in the work on campus and in community - projects actively working with SCC, ASPSU, ISS	2	Unknown
Environmental education is a primary lens	1	Unknown
Household impact reduction	2	Unknown
Comparing and contrasting nations' policies, vis-a-vis alignment with climate models and impacts globally and regionally	2	Unknown
Community Ed variations fo UNST 232 - Global Environmental Change and similar courses.	1	Unknown
Equity work = Climate justice work = Better future for all	2	Unknown
Our crop availability will be dire by 2030 (Myers, S.) and CO2 emissions reduce crop nutritional content	1	Unknown
How to enage with people who are afraid of/avoid climate discussions	3	Unknown
Consumption-based emissions	3	Unknown
Environmental justice	2	Unknown
Green v brown agenda	2	Unknown
Climate migration	2	Unknown
How we can reduce emissions and build skills and resiliency by REDUCING waste. This is not just an individual issue. It is a collective action issue.	3	Unknown
Role of resilient islands	2	Unknown
Environmental science (impacts of fossil fuels)	2	Unknown
Ecology (natural systems and resilience)	2	Unknown
Citizen science (tools for measuring change)	2	Unknown
You are already experiencing the health effects of climate change	1	Unknown
Any social justice work IS environmental work	2	Unknown
Dialogue Tools for Introverts and other Quiet Students	1	Other	