Communication Beginnings:
An Introductory Listening and Speaking Text for English Language Learners

By Della Jean Abrahams
This book is dedicated to my parents for teaching me the importance of education and to Emad Albidah for reminding me how joyous learning a new language can be.

Thank you also to the Portland State University Library for the PDXOpen publishing grant and to Karen Bjork for assisting with the process so graciously. A thank you also to Dr. Nike Arnold and her graduate Materials Design course for collaborating on this project with me, and most of all a huge thank you to the Intensive English Language Program at PSU for introducing me to hundreds of English language learners from every corner of the globe, many of whom continue to inspire me to this day.
Background and Rationale

This textbook is designed for beginning-intermediate English language learners. It is composed of 7 chapters with brief descriptions in the table of contents on the next page. Each chapter includes listening and speaking components such as dialogues, interviews, discussions and conversation activities. Each chapter also focuses on 10 target words from the New General Service List of English vocabulary. The textbook includes an audio component that consists of recorded conversations of native and non-native English speakers, as well as links to additional listening resources on the web.

It is my hope that this text can create and facilitate a communicative and productive learning environment for students and their instructors. Because of the open access format of this textbook, learners from around the world may also potentially benefit from the content and improve language skills independently by downloading this book free of charge. Lastly and importantly, there are currently very few open access textbooks in the field of ESL, and it is my hope that creating this one will inspire additional instructors to create their own in the near future.

Enjoy!

Chapter 1- Learning English at a University

In this chapter, you will learn about:
- Tips and strategies for learning English in a university setting
- Tips and strategies for improving listening and speaking skills in English
- How to identify syllables in English words

Learning a language is like running in a race. There is a lot of warm-up and a lot of practice before you can do well. However, if you try hard, you can win.

Discussion questions:

1. Read the sentences above. How is learning a language similar to running a race? What are some similarities between the two activities? What are some differences?
2. When a person runs a race, they need to warm up their muscles before they start. Is learning a new language similar? How can you warm up before speaking in a second language?
Learning English at a University

Maybe you have studied at a university before, but learning a new language is a special goal that needs a special set of tools in order to succeed. This chapter will discuss three sets of learning tips to help you get on a great start to learning English.

- General learning tips for university classes
- Tips for improving speaking and listening skills
- Tips for learning vocabulary in a second language

General Learning Tips for English Learners

Follow the learning tips below to improve your language learning. Remember that learning must happen in the class with your teacher and classmates but also outside of class in your own time. Use English as much as possible!

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>In class</th>
<th>Outside of class</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>• Speak only English as much as possible</td>
<td>• Use resources available to you at your school</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• Sit by someone who doesn’t speak your language in class</td>
<td>o Use conversation partners and tutors</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• Ask a lot of questions when you don’t understand</td>
<td>o Visit your teacher’s office hours for questions and practice</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• Before you translate a word in your dictionary to your language, try to understand the word from its context (the words around it)</td>
<td>o Go to free parties and events on campus with English speakers</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• When the teacher asks a question, raise your hand to answer. Don’t be afraid to try.</td>
<td>• Go to community events where English is spoken</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• Be brave and speak- don’t be shy to try your English skills</td>
<td>• Listen to the news, radio, and TV in English</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• Review old vocabulary words and listen again to practice audio quizzes</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Discussion questions:

1. How many of the learning strategies listed do you already use?
2. What are 2 or 3 new strategies from the lists that you can try this week?
3. Do you use any other learning strategies that are different from the ones discussed here?
Tips for Improving Speaking and Listening Skills

Improving your speaking and listening skills in English requires a lot of time and effort. However, with knowledge and use of some learning strategies, your English abilities will grow quickly.

Speaking and listening are skills that are closely connected. Improving one of them will help you improve the other. Remember this as you study English. Also, remember that improving your reading, grammar and writing skills in English will also help you improve your speaking and listening. Try to use and practice all part of the English language together.

Chapter 1

Listening Practice

Part 1 Directions: After reading about learning strategies on the pages before, listen to the story below about Kaori, a Japanese student who has moved to the United States to study English.

As you listen, try to hear the answers to the questions below. Take some notes by the questions. After you listen, discuss your answers to the questions with your partner.

Chapter 1 _ Activity 1

Discussion questions:

1. Why does Kaori feel shy to speak in her English class?

2. Why isn’t Kaori’s English improving?

3. What can she do to change her feelings?

4. Do you understand how Kaori feels? Why or why not?

Part 2. Now listen to another story about Kaori. Has she changed anything about her learning habits? Is she feeling more successful? Listen and answer the questions below.

Chapter 1 _ Activity 2

Discussion questions:

1. What are 2 of the changes Kaori made at school?

2. Why does she feel better now?

3. What is the main idea of these two stories?
Learning Tips for Vocabulary Words

In order to successfully learn vocabulary, you will need to understand and use the new word a lot. Using the same strategy each time you learn a new word will help you remember new vocabulary. Follow the steps below while you are learning English and your vocabulary will increase quickly.

● Step 1:
  Look at the spelling of the word and listen carefully to how it is pronounced.

● Step 2:
  Using an English dictionary, find the meaning of the new word and the part of speech. Is it a noun? Is it a verb?

● Step 3:
  Study how the word is used in context (inside of a sentence or paragraph).

● Step 4:
  Quiz yourself on the word. Use flashcards often. Can you remember the word’s meaning and how it is spelled? Can you easily use it in a sentence?

● Step 5:
  Review and recycle the new word until you can easily remember it.

Apply these steps to the chapter one vocabulary words on the next page.

Part 1 Directions: Use your dictionary to find the meaning for the vocabulary words in the box. Then write the words from the box next to their definitions below.

Vocabulary Words | Definitions
1. ________________: A plan of steps for achieving something.
2. ________________: To talk about an idea or subject with someone.
3. ________________: Something that has a big effect on someone’s life.
4. ________________: The people and things that are around you in life.
5. ________________: Something that is said or written as a reply.
6. ________________: To make a request for something such as a job.
7. ________________: Facts or details that tell you about something.
8. ________________: Your idea or belief about a subject.
9. ________________: When you achieve what you want.
10. ________________: Information, skills, and understanding that you have gotten through learning or experience.

Part 2 Directions: Read the questions below. Find and underline each vocabulary word in the questions. Then ask your partner the questions.

1. What kind of environment is good for studying?
2. What information did you learn in class yesterday?
3. Do you like to discuss your opinions in class?
4. What do you need to do to be a successful student?
Listening tip: Syllables

When you listen to a word in English, you can hear different parts of the word. These parts are called ‘syllables’.

For example, -the word paper has two parts: pa - per
-the word beautiful has three parts: beau- ti- ful
- the word love only has one part: love

Knowing how many syllables a word has will help you be able to pronounce the word correctly. It will also help you be able to spell the word.

How do you find the syllables in a word?

- A dictionary will mark the syllables in a word like this: pa - per
- Study the spelling of the word- Every syllable needs at least 1 vowel  pa- per
- Put your hand under your chin and say the word. Each time your chin touches your hand counts as one syllable.
- Listen carefully to each sound you can hear in the word.

Practice hearing syllables below with the chapter 1 vocabulary words:

Directions: Listen to the pronunciation of the vocabulary words. Write the vocabulary word then listen again and write the number of syllables that you hear in each word. The first word has been done for you.
Mark the syllables on each of the words.

Chapter 1 Vocabulary

1. Im-por-tant (3)  2. ________________  3. ________________
4. ________________  5. ________________  6. ________________
7. ________________  8. ________________  9. ________________
10. ________________
Using Vocabulary in Context

Part A Directions: Read the paragraph and try to complete the missing words with the chapter 1 vocabulary words. You may need to make a word plural.

On the first day of English class, there is a lot of __________________________ that you will talk about and__________________________ with your teacher and classmates. It is very __________________________ that you pay attention, so you don’t miss anything. Your teacher will ask you questions and will wait for your ___________________________. In American classrooms, the ____________________________ is interactive, which means the teacher and the students talk to each other a lot. Also, it is common for the students to talk in groups or pairs a lot and share ideas or ____________________________ about something. On the first day, your teacher might share a new learning________________________ or tip that will help increase your ____________________________ in the class. Before too long, you will have a lot of ____________________________ in your brain, and you will improve your English in no time. You might even use your new English skills to ____________________________ for a student job or a place on a university team!

Good luck!

Part B Directions: Listen below and check your answers in the paragraph above.

Part C Directions: Practice reading the paragraph with a partner. Take turns reading the paragraph out loud and practicing correct pronunciation of the vocabulary words.
Find someone who....

Directions: You must find a classmate who says “yes” to the points below.

First, think of how to find the information using a question. Then, ask your classmates the questions and write their names if they say “yes”. If they say “no”, ask a different classmate. Try to find a different name for each question.

Discussion Activity: Choosing a University

Directions: You and your best friend have just finished high school and want to choose a university to attend together. You have narrowed it to two choices, but you can’t decide which one you want to go to. Both schools have accepted you. Which one will you choose? You must agree with your friend.

University A

- In a small community
- Quiet neighborhood
- Not close to restaurants or shopping
- 500 students
- No public transportation
- $35,000.00 per year tuition

University B

- In the middle of a big city
- Loud and noisy
- Next to many restaurants and shops
- 25,000 students
- Close to public transportation
- $25,000.00 per year tuition

1. Which university will you choose to attend? __________________________

2. What are three reasons why you will choose the university and not the other?

   a. __________________________________________

   b. __________________________________________

   c. __________________________________________
Chapter 1 Review

Learning English isn’t easy, but you can improve quickly if you try hard!

1. Remember and use the learning tips in this chapter.
2. Apply the strategies discussed in this chapter to your vocabulary learning.
3. Notice the number of syllables in words.
4. Use English as often as you can outside of the classroom!

Listening for details and main ideas

Part A Directions: Listen to the person introduce herself and describe her interests. Then answer the questions below.

Chapter 2 Activity 1 part A

1. Where does Samantha go to school? ________________________________
2. How many years has Samantha been in college? ________________________________
3. What job would Samantha like in the future? ________________________________
4. What are Samantha’s hobbies? ________________________________
5. What is the main idea of this listening? Circle one.
   a) Samantha’s life in college   b) Samantha’s life
   c) Samantha’s hobbies    d) Samantha’s family
Part B Directions: Now listen to Samantha talk about her grandmother. After you listen, answer the questions below.

1. How old is Samantha’s grandmother? __________________________
2. How many years was Samantha’s grandmother a teacher? ______________
3. What are Samantha’s grandmother’s hobbies? ________________________
4. Which of Samantha’s hobbies does her grandmother not like? ______________
5. Which hobby do they do together? __________________________

Part C Directions: Using the information you heard about Samantha and her grandmother, complete the chart below.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>

<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Part D Directions: Discuss the questions below with your partner or in a small group.

1. Do you think Samantha and her grandmother are more similar to each other or more different?
2. Why do you think different generations have different hobbies?
   a. What hobbies are popular for people in your generation?
   b. What hobbies were popular in your grandparents’ generation?
Grammar Tip: Subject Pronouns and Possessive Adjectives

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Subject Pronouns</th>
<th>Possessive Adjectives</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>I</td>
<td>My</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>You</td>
<td>Your</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>She</td>
<td>Her</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>He</td>
<td>His</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>It</td>
<td>Its</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>We</td>
<td>Our</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>They</td>
<td>Their</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

- Subject pronouns are used when you are talking about the person as the subject of the sentence. They are often followed by a verb.

  Examples: I am a student. She is a teacher. They like to travel.

- Possessive adjectives are used when you are talking about something that belongs to a person or place. They are often followed by a noun.

  Examples: My car is red. Their bus is late. Our classroom is big.

Practice: Answer the questions below using complete sentences. Then underline the subject pronouns in your answers and circle the possessive adjectives.

1. Where are you from? ____________________________________________________________

2. What language do you speak? ____________________________________________________

3. What is your hobby? ____________________________________________________________

4. What is your favorite color? ____________________________________________________
Grammar Tip: 3rd person “s”

In English, when you talk about another person or thing, the verb always has an “s” added to it.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Subject</th>
<th>Verb</th>
<th>Object</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>I</td>
<td>like</td>
<td>pizza.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>You</td>
<td>like</td>
<td>pizza.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>He</td>
<td>likes</td>
<td>pizza.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>She</td>
<td>likes</td>
<td>pizza.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>It</td>
<td>likes</td>
<td>pizza.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>We</td>
<td>like</td>
<td>pizza.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>They</td>
<td>Like</td>
<td>pizza.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The 3rd person “s” is always used when talking about another person in the present tense.

Do not use the 3rd person “s”:

- for negative sentences
- to talk about the past or future

Examples:

- Third person “s”: She likes pizza.
  - Negative: She doesn’t like pizza.

- Third person “s”: He speaks English.
  - Past tense: He didn’t speak English.
  - Future tense: He will speak English.
Practice 1: Listen to the statements. Circle the form of the verb that you hear.

Chapter 2 Listening to verbs

1. a) like       b) likes
2. a) play       b) plays
3. a) take       b) takes
4. a) eat        b) eats
5. a) read       b) reads
6. a) ride       b) rides
7. a) speak      b) speaks

Practice 2: Ask your partner the 5 questions and write their complete answers below. Use the correct form of the third person pronoun or possessive adjective and the 3rd person form of the verb.

1. What is your name?
2. Where are you from?
3. What language do you speak?
4. What is your hobby?
5. What is your favorite food?

1. _____________________________________________________________________________________________________
2. _____________________________________________________________________________________________________
3. _____________________________________________________________________________________________________
4. _____________________________________________________________________________________________________
5. _____________________________________________________________________________________________________
Homework Survey

Directions: Practice your English outside of the classroom. Find 5 Americans or strong users of English and ask them the questions below. Write their complete answers. Use correct grammar in your answers.

Remember to first introduce yourself and to thank the person when you are finished.

Chapter 2_ Activity 2 Listening to a Conversation

Directions: Listen to Abdullah and Amy talk about the activities that they like to do. Fill in the blanks in the conversation below with the vocabulary words that you hear. After you listen, practice reading the conversation with a partner.

Abdullah: Hey Amy, how are you?

Amy: Hi Abdullah, I’m good. How are you?

Abdullah: I’m good. I’m working on a project for my class.

Amy: Oh, really? What is it about?

Abdullah: I have to _________________________ my ________________ for a presentation.

Amy: Oh, that sounds interesting. What are your _________________ activities to do?

Abdullah: Well, I’m a really_______________________ person, so I like to hang out with friends and do things in my ______________________________. What about you?

Amy: Me too! I’m also a social person, but I like to do ______________ activities as well.

Abdullah: Tell me more. Like what?

Amy: For example, I really enjoy reading. Do you?

Abdullah: Yes, I do. But, I believe this hobby was more popular in previous____________ in my country.

Amy: Really?

Abdullah: Yes, today people my age like to use social media and the internet.

Amy: Cool. I understand. I think it’s the same in my __________________________.

Abdullah: Cool. I think it’s that way in many ______________________ now. Well, I have to go now. See you around!

Amy: OK. Nice talking to you. Good luck on your project!
Speaking tip: Follow up questions and phrases

When you are talking with someone in English, there are many ways to keep a conversation going. One way is to use follow-up questions. After you answer a question, return the question with these phrases:

- What about you?
- How about you?
- Why? Really?
- Interesting. Tell me more.

Practice: Go back to the conversation on the page before between Amy and Abdullah and listen to how the speakers use the follow-up questions and phrases.
Chapter 2

Practicing Conversations

Directions: Now practice writing a conversation of your own. Work with your partner to write a conversation. Introduce yourselves and talk about your hobbies and interests. Use follow-up questions and statements and include 5 of the Chapter 2 vocabulary words in your conversation.

Sam: Hey Tina! I haven’t seen you all year! How was your trip to Brazil last year?

Tina: Hey Sam! I know! It’s been a long time since I’ve seen you. My trip was great. I had a few ________________ that were kind of difficult, but it was a good trip overall.

Sam: How did you ________________ to visit Brazil? Had you traveled there before?

Tina: No, I hadn’t, but my friend ________________ me to some Brazilian people and they were very nice, so I bought a ticket and went.

Sam: Cool! Do you ________________ any interesting things that you did while you were there?

Tina: Well, my friend that I went with actually ________________ short travel films, so he made a movie about our trip. It shows all the places we went. I’ll give you the website, so you can watch it.

Sam: Wow! That sounds great! It’s not easy to travel with a friend. Did you ________________ or fight with each other?

Tina: No, not really. We got along great, and we had so much fun.

Sam: That’s great to hear. Would you return in the future?

Tina: Yes, definitely! If I have the ________________, I will return in the future.

Sam: Cool. Well, it’s great to see you!

Tina: You too! See you around!

Sam: You too! Bye!

Part 2 Directions: Listen and check your answers then practice reading the conversation with a partner.

Grammar Point: Questions in English

There are two types of questions in English: Yes/ No questions and WH questions.
● Yes/No questions
  ○ Begin with these verbs: Do/ Does or Is / Are
  ○ They are answered with a “Yes” or a “No”.

The be verb (is/are) is used to start questions when a noun or adjective follows the subject.

Question: Is Ms. Brown a teacher? Question: Are the students happy?
  (noun) (adjective)
Answer: Yes, she is. Answer: No, they aren’t.

The verbs ‘do’ or ‘does’ are used to start questions when a verb follows the subject.

1) Question: Does she work here? Question: Do they speak English?
   (verb) (verb)
Answer: No, she doesn’t. Answer: Yes, they do.

WH questions
● Follow the same grammar rules, but they begin with the question words:
  ○ Who, What, When, Where, How, Why
  ○ WH questions have longer answers, not just “yes” or “no”

1) Where does she live? 2) When is your class?
   She lives downtown. I have class on Monday and Wednesday.

---------------------------------------------------------------

Practice: Look at the answers below. Write a question that matches the answer. Think carefully about the grammar in the answer.

1. ____________________________?
   Answer: No, they are from Canada.

2. ____________________________?
   Answer: She works at a bank.

3. ____________________________?
   Answer: My birthday is June 22nd.

4. ____________________________?
   Answer: Yes, I’m a student here.

Discussion Activity
You and your best friend are taking a vacation for spring break. You are deciding between two kinds of vacations. First, ask your partner the WH questions below, so you understand what kind of vacation they like.

- What kind of weather do you like?
- Do you want to exercise or relax on vacation?
- Do long flights annoy you?
- What is your budget (how much money can you spend)?
- How long do you want to go for?

Now, study the information below about the two vacations. Together, with your partner, choose one vacation. You must agree with your partner on the same vacation.

Which vacation will you choose? Why?

<table>

Speaking Tip: Intonation
In the English language, the sound of a person’s voice goes up or down when they say the last word of a question or sentence. This difference in sound is called “intonation”.

Study the examples below. Listen to the different sounds of the speaker’s voice here.

Chapter 3

Practice activity 1

Listening for Intonation

Directions: Listen to the questions and circle the type of intonation you hear.

Practice Activity 2

Directions: Using the intonation examples on the previous page, decide if the questions and statements below have rising or falling intonation. Draw an up or down arrow next to each number. The first one has been done for you.

1. Do you like to travel? [↑]
2. I travel as often as I can.
3. What is your favorite country?
4. Are you from Japan?
5. I love to travel!

Practice activity 3
Directions: Ask your partner the questions below. Practice using correct intonation.

Partner A-
1. Where are you from?
2. When was your last vacation?
3. Do you like to travel on trains?

Partner B-
1. What is your name?
2. Have you been to New York City?
3. Where is your favorite place to travel in the world?

Speaking Tip: Conversation Continuers
These words are used to show interest or understanding in a conversation and to make conversations last longer. Study them and include them in your English conversations.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>To show interest</th>
<th>To show concern</th>
<th>To show excitement</th>
<th>To follow up</th>

Directions: Using the words and phrases from above, work with a partner to complete the conversation below. Then practice reading the conversation using correct intonation.

A: Hey! How are you?
B: I’m not that good.
A:__________________________________________________________________________________________________
B: Well, I missed my flight. Now I have to pay extra to fly tomorrow.
A:__________________________________________________________________________________________________
B: Yeah. __________________________________________________________________________________________?
A: Well, I’m actually great! I feel so happy today!
B:_________________________________________________________________________________________________
A: I just got married this weekend.
B: ________________________________________________________________________________________________.
A: I know! I’m so happy. But, I’m also feeling worried because of my busy schedule.
B: ________________________________________________________________________________________________.
A: I’m going on a vacation next week, but I have so much work to do before then.
B:_________________________________________________________________________________________________.
A: Well, good luck with your flight tomorrow!
B: Thanks! It was nice to see you!
A: You too! See you later!
B: Bye!

Part 1 Directions: Read the paragraph and fill in the missing words with the chapter 4 vocabulary words. Some words might be used more than one time. You may need to change the form of the words. You will not use one of the words.

| process | increase | product | allow | suggest | national | quality | international | specific | avoid |

It's important to know where food comes from. Do you know where yours comes from? In the United States, a lot of food goes through a long _________________ before it arrives in the grocery store. Some _________________like milk are produced _________________, meaning in the United States. However, some products are _________________and are imported from other countries. Let’s look at some _________________examples. Most beef in the United States is produced nationally. For this reason, the _________________of beef is good in the United States. It is fresh. However, some fruits, like mangos or coconuts are not grown in the U.S. They are shipped to the U.S. from other countries. Some people _________________eating foods that are not local. It is a good idea, but sometimes, this _________________the price of some foods. Some shoppers _________________themselves to buy international _________________once in awhile, but not often. Other shoppers don’t care and buy whatever is the cheapest. In the U.S., you can find almost any product. Next time, think about where something came from when you buy it! Look for the sticker on the label.

Grammar Tip: Contractions

Contractions are two words joined together by an apostrophe (’). They are used in casual or informal speaking and writing.

Some common examples of contractions

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>I am = I’m</th>
<th>He is = He’s</th>
<th>She is = She’s</th>
<th>We are = we’re</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>I have = I’ve</td>
<td>You have = You’ve</td>
<td>We have = we’ve</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Will not = won’t</td>
<td>Should not = shouldn’t</td>
<td>Is not = isn’t</td>
<td>Were not = weren’t</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cannot = Can’t</td>
<td>Do not = don’t</td>
<td></td>
<td>I will = I’ll</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

9. What are three things you want to have in your neighborhood?
10. Is it important to live close to your family? Why or why not?
Chapter 5

Asking for and giving directions

There are many ways to ask for directions in English.

1) Ask for a specific place

- Excuse me, where is the bank?
  - The bank is in front of the hotel.

- Excuse me, do you know where the mall is?
  - The mall is across from the park.

The prepositions below are used to describe where places are in a city.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>In front of</th>
<th>behind</th>
<th>up/down the street</th>
<th>on the corner</th>
<th>between</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>around the corner</td>
<td>to the right of / to the left of</td>
<td>across from</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>across the street from</td>
<td>Next to / Beside</td>
<td>at the end of the block</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

2) Ask for the address of a place

- Excuse me, can you tell me the address of the bank?
  - The bank is located at 1234 S.W. 12th St.

- Excuse me, could you give me the address of the hospital?
  - The hospital is located at 176 N. 23rd Ave.

Addresses in English often have shortened words:

- Ave. = Avenue  St. = Street  Blvd. = Boulevard  Rd. = Road
- N. = North  S. = South  E. = East  W. = West

Addresses use both ordinal and cardinal numbers

- Ordinal = first, second, third
- Cardinal = one, two, three

Watch this video for specific information on how to say numbers in English:

- Ordinal and Cardinal numbers presentation
Speaking Practice Activity

Partner A: Ask your partner the questions and follow their answers on the map.

Adjectives for Describing Cities and Neighborhoods

Cities and towns come in all sizes. Some are big, and some are small. Each city or town has many neighborhoods, which are groups of houses or apartments where people know each other. The people in your neighborhood are called your neighbors.

There are many ways to describe cities and neighborhoods:

- Size: big, huge, large, tiny, small, medium
- Location: Downtown, in a suburb (next to a city), in the city, out of the city, rural
- Feel: busy, loud, quiet, convenient, exciting, modern, traditional, green, crowded, safe, dangerous

Example:

- What is your city like?
  - My city is small and rural. It is not a big city. It is quiet.

- What is your neighborhood like?
  - My neighborhood is quiet and safe. It is not busy or dangerous.

Practice: Ask your partner about their hometown. Try to find three similarities and three differences between you and your partner’s hometowns.

1. What is your hometown like?
2. What is your neighborhood like?
3. Is your city safe or dangerous?
4. Is your city crowded?
5. Is your neighborhood green?
6. Is your neighborhood busy?

3. How much does the house cost? ____________________________

Which home would you choose to buy? ____________________________

Why? _______________________________________________________________________________________________

Grammar Tip: Regular Past Tense Verb Endings

In English, all regular verbs end with ‘ed’
Some verbs change their spelling, but others do not.

There are three different ways to pronounce past tense regular verb endings:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>/id/</th>
<th>/t/</th>
<th>/d/</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Wanted</td>
<td>helped</td>
<td>called</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Needed</td>
<td>looked</td>
<td>cleaned</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Follow these rules:

- If the base verb ends with the sound /t/ or /d/ = /id/
  /id/
  ● Paint = painted

- If the base verb ends with the sounds /p/, /f/, /x/, /sh/, /ch/ /k/ = /t/
  /t/
  ● Watch = watched
  /t/
  ● Wash = washed

- If the base verb ends with any other sound = /d/
  /d/
  ● Play = played
The sounds of /t/ and /d/ are very similar, but the sound of /id/ is very different because it has an extra syllable added to the verb.

A native speaker of English will quickly notice if a verb that should have one syllable is pronounced with two.

For example:

Paint = 1 syllable   painted = 2 syllables

Help = 1 syllable   helped = 1 syllable   not helped = 2 syllables

Turn to the next page to practice listening to the different sounds of past tense verb endings.

Chapter 6 Activity 1
Grammar Tip: Agreeing and Disagreeing

Question: Do you prefer tennis or swimming? Why?

It is important to know how to agree or disagree with someone or something. In English, there are some easy phrases you can use:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Positive statement</th>
<th>Agree</th>
<th>Disagree</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>“I love swimming”</td>
<td>“Me too!”</td>
<td>“Oh, really? I don’t!”</td>

<th>Negative statement</th>
<th>Agree</th>
<th>Disagree</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>“I don’t like playing tennis”</td>
<td>“Me neither”</td>
<td>“Oh, really? I do!”</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Practice

Partner A: Read statements #1-4 below to your partner.
Partner B: Agree or disagree with your partner using the phrases above. Then switch roles for statements #5-8.

1. I love running!
2. I don’t like video games.
3. I hate sports.
4. I love homework.

5. I love going to the gym.
6. I hate cooking!
7. I love reading about politics.
8. I enjoy driving cars.

Speaking Tip: Syllable Stress

A: Did you say your major is teaching English?

B: No! I said teaching Spanish.

When you need to stress or emphasize a word in English so another person understands you, you can pronounce the syllables of the word differently. This is called “stress”.

Syllable stress= Making a word or syllable louder or higher, so it is noticed by listeners.

Rules:

- Stress the first syllable of: Most two-syllable nouns (examples: PEncil, JACKet)
  Most two-syllable adjectives (examples: LOVEly, HAPpy)

- Stress the last syllable of: Most two-syllable verbs (examples: reQUIRE, deCIDE)

- Stress the middle syllable of: Most three syllable words ( toMAto, comPUter)

Practice

Read the conversation below with a partner. Practice saying the stressed syllables louder and higher.

A: Hey! what are you studying?

B: I’m studying biology.

A: Did you say ge*ology*?

B: No, I said bi*ology*.

A: Oh, sorry! Cool. Biology sounds interesting. What kind of job do you want?

B: I want to be a climate scientist.

A: A WHAT?

B: A CLimate scientist. They study the weather and how it changes.

A: Oh! Cool. Good luck!

B: Thanks!

Grammar Tip: Future Tense

In English, there are two common ways to talk about future plans or events:

1. Future plans that are already made use the form: “be going to” + another verb.
   - I am going to study in France next year.
   - She is going to take a class with that professor next semester.
   - Are you going to get a job when you graduate?

2. Facts or promises use the form: “will” + another verb.
   - The semester will start on Monday.
   - I will call you after class. I promise!
   - She will be late to work today.

Practice

Directions: Work with a partner to complete the conversation using the future tense. Think carefully about which form to use. Then practice reading the conversation together.

A: Hey! ________________________________________________ (you / study) here next semester?
B: Hey! No, ___________________________________________ (I / plan) to study here because I have a job offer.
A: Cool! When ___________________________________________ (you / start) the job?
B: ________________________________________________ (I / start) next April.
A: Where is the job?
B: __________________________________________________ (the job / be) in San Francisco.
A: Wow! That’s great! I hope it is a good job.
B: Thanks!! Me too!
Speaking Fluency Practice

Directions: Read the questions below and think about your answers. Then discuss the questions with a partner or in a small group.

1. Does the job you want require a specific university degree? Which degree?
2. Do you want to work in customer service? Why or why not?
3. Do you want a job that is physically demanding? Why or why not?
4. What kind of projects do you enjoy doing?
5. Are there lots of opportunities for jobs in your country?
6. What does it take to be successful in a job?
7. Have you been to a job interview before? Did you get the position?
8. What is a normal salary for a beginning job in your country?
9. What kind of job does your (father / mother / sister / brother) have?
10. What kind of jobs do not attract you?

Chapter 1

• Listening activity 1 script

Kaori is an English learner from Japan. She is in her first semester at a university in the U.S. state of Oregon. She is very excited to be learning English. In class, Kaori feels a little shy and mostly sits by another Japanese student. Together they translate words and talk in Japanese during the break. Sometimes her teacher calls her name to answer questions, but otherwise, Kaori doesn’t raise her hand or speak much during class. She is afraid of making a mistake when she speaks. On the weekends, Kaori chats with her family in Japan and watches movies in Japanese on the computer. Kaori has been in the United States for two months now, but she doesn’t feel like her speaking and listening skills are improving. She is disappointed.

• Listening activity 2 script

Kaori, an English student from Japan, went to talk with her teacher about her listening and speaking skills. She told her teacher that she didn’t feel like she was improving, and that she was having a hard time with her English studies. Her teacher gave her some ideas, and Kaori tried some of them that week. Instead of sitting by the other Japanese student in her class, Kaori sat by Mohammed, a student from Kuwait. They spoke in English the whole class and agreed to be study partners outside of class as well. Kaori also started going to the conversation partners and practiced her English outside of class. In class, Kaori tried raising her hand when the teacher asked questions. Suddenly, Kaori felt like her English was really improving. The changes that she made helped her learn English more quickly and easily.

• Activity 3 Answer Key

On the first day of English class, there is a lot of information that you will talk about and discuss with your teacher and classmates. It is very important that you pay attention, so you don’t miss anything. Your teacher will ask you questions and will wait for your response. In American classrooms, the environment is interactive, which means the teacher and the students talk to each other a lot. Also, it is common for the students to talk in groups or pairs a lot and share ideas or opinions about something. On the first day, your teacher might share a new learning strategy or tip that will help increase your success in the class. Before too long, you will have a lot of knowledge in your brain, and you will improve your English in no time. You might even use your new English skills to apply for a student job or a place on a university team! Good luck!

Chapter 2
• Activity 1 A script
Hello, my name is Samantha. I’m nineteen years old and I’m from the United States. I have a big family with 6 brothers and two dogs. I graduated from high school last year. Now I’m at a freshman at a university in California. My major is Business. This semester I’m taking 3 classes. I’m really busy, but I like college so far. In the future I would like to work in advertising. I am interested in social media and like using the internet in my free time. I don’t really like watching TV that much, but I like taking pictures with my camera around my neighborhood.

• Activity 1 B script
My grandma also lives with us. Because she is from a different generation, she has different interests. She is 89 years old and used to be a teacher. She worked in an elementary school for 39 years teaching children math. She loved her job. These days she spends her time doing crossword puzzles and reading books. She doesn’t like technology or using the internet, but she loves gardening and being outside. I like spending time with her outside, too.

It’s important to know where food comes from. Do you know where yours comes from? In the United States, a lot of food goes through a long ___process___ before it arrives in the grocery store. Some ___products___ like milk are produced ___nationally___, meaning in the United States. However, some products are ___international___ and are imported from other countries. Let’s look at some ___specific___ examples. Most beef in the United States is produced nationally. For this reason, the ___quality___ of beef is good in the United States. It is fresh. However, some fruits, like mangos or coconuts are not grown in the U.S. They are shipped to the U.S. from other countries. Some people ___avoid___ eating foods that are not local. It is a good idea, but sometimes, this ___increases___ the price of some foods. Some shoppers ___allow___ themselves to buy international ___products___ once in awhile, but not often. Other shoppers don’t care and buy whatever is the cheapest. In the U.S., you can find almost any product. Next time, think about where something came from when you buy it! Look for the sticker on the label.
